EGYPTIAN PREZ CHIEF GUEST AT REPUBLIC DAY PARADE

Egyptian President Abdel Fattah El-Sisi is slated to be the chief guest at this year's Republic Day parade. Sisi is expected to arrive in New Delhi on January 24, and will be accorded a ceremonial welcome at Rashtrapati Bhavan, followed by a meeting with PM Narendra Modi. A series of MoUs are expected to be signed during the visit. This is the first time that Egypt's head of state has been invited as the guest for Republic Day, and will help boost ties between the two countries.

Shri. Pinarayi Vijayan
Hon'ble Chief Minister of Kerala

WE ARE ON TOP OF THE WORLD.

THANKS TO WHAT'S HAPPENING ON THE GROUND.

The New York Times handpicks Kerala as one of the '52 places to go in 2023'. We are truly elated to be recognised by The New York Times for our "award-winning approach that allows visitors to experience village life while supporting the communities that host them" and to be included in the list of the world's top go-to destinations.

Waste

Refusal, Reduction, Recycling, Re-purpose, Re-use.

Refuse to accept or refuse to buy non-recyclable products / single use plastics and unnecessary packaging.

Reduce the use of harmful, wasteful and non-recyclable materials.

Think about what you use and buy.

Instead of buying, reuse some of what you already have and work hard to reduce the quantity of waste generated.

With little modification, the quantity of waste generation can be reduced by using materials taken for a particular purpose for different purposes.
For Example: Clothes can be converted into bags, old sarees will be converted into razais and plants can be grown in used bottles, etc.

By recycling of waste, the adverse effects of waste on the environment can be drastically reduced.

Wet wastes can be separated and processed to make good manure.

Nutrient-rich manure helps in different crops.

Segregation of waste is mandatory for producers as per Solid Waste Disposal Rules 2016 and NGT Order.If wet waste and dry waste, household hazardous waste is not segregated, garbage would not be collected and a fine will be levied.

PANEL DEAL DONE, WFI CHIEF TO STEP ASIDE

ANMOL GURUNG/NAMITA BAJPAI @ New Delhi/Lucknow

IN a late night deal struck between the sports ministry and the protesting wrestlers, the government announced the setting up of an oversight committee to examine all the grave charges against Wrestling Federation of India chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh. The panel will submit its finding in four weeks till which time the Singh will step aside and assist it.

After almost seven hours of meeting on Friday, sports minister Anurag Thakur along with the wrestlers announced that the committee to be formed on Saturday will look into the day-to-day matters of the WFI.

"We had a discussion with the wrestlers and have decided to form a independent committee that will be completely neutral," said Thakur. He also said that the ministry will look into all allegations including financial misappropriation and sexual harassment against Singh.

Bajrang Punia, who spoke on behalf of the protesters, said they were satisfied with the outcome of the meeting adding they have full faith in the probe committee.

"Since our wrestlers were a little worried about threats from WFI, the ministry has assured us full support," said Bajrang, adding that the protest will be withdrawn. Among those who were part of the meeting that began around 6pm were Olympic medallists Sakshi Malik, World Championships medallists Vinesh Phogat and Anshu Malik.

Earlier in the day, Singh had refused to resign. He is at Gonda where the Senior National Senior Open National Ranking Tournament is set to begin on Saturday.

The wrestlers who continued their protest at Jantar Mantar, said that more players have spoken to them about their harassment.

The wrestlers also wrote to Indian Olympic Association president PT Usha. After IOA met in the evening, it formed a seven-member committee to look into the allegations. Interstingly, the panel has Yogeshwar Dutt who has not been part of the protest. P19

Google to lay off 12K as recession fears grip big tech

CEO Sundar Pichai says sorry as firm plans to cut excess jobs added during boom times

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

A day after Microsoft reported 10,000 job cuts, tech giant Google's parent Alphabet on Friday said it will lay off 12,000 people across the world.

As recession fears mount, big tech companies have been on a firing spree after a period of growth during the pandemic era. After the dramatic growth stopped, the bloated workforce became a burden for the firms.

Breaking the bad news to employees in an email, Google CEO Sundar Pichai admitted that the company hired liberally in the past two years to keep pace with growth. "To match and fuel that growth, we hired for a different economic reality than the one we face today... I am deeply sorry for that," he added.

Kamal Karanth, co-founder, Xpheno, a specialist staffing firm, told this newspaper that tech layoffs in the US and the start-up layoffs in India are a lesson for the future for meaningful hiring during a bull run. "Some of these companies and leaders may not be able to give the excuse next time that they over-hired," he added.

In the first week of January, Amazon had said that it would increase the number of layoffs from 10,000 to 18,000. More than 1,500 employees in India have been impacted due to job cuts.

RETRENCHMENTS SO FAR
Meta	11,000
Amazon	18,000
Microsoft	10,000
Alphabet	12,000
Goldman Sachs	3,000
Salesforce	8,000
Twitter	3,700
Cisco	4,000

The impact of both Google and Microsoft layoffs in India could not be ascertained. Alphabet's total number of employees as on September 30, 2022, was 1,86,779. In India, it employs over 5,000 people.

Alphabet said it will pay employees for the entire notice period (a minimum of 60 days). The company will also offer a severance package starting at 16 weeks salary plus two weeks for every additional year at Google. Outside the US, it will support employees in line with local practices.

DGCA slaps penalty on AI, suspends pilot

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) on Friday imposed a penalty of ₹30 lakh on Air India and suspended the licence of the pilot for flouting the rulebook on managing and reporting an unruly passenger on board their New York-Delhi flight on December 26. The passenger allegedly eased himself on a fellow flier.

"Financial penalty of ₹30 lakh has been imposed on Air India for violation of applicable DGCA requirements. In addition, a penalty of ₹3 lakh has been imposed on director-in-flight services of Air India for failing to discharge her duties as applicable for requirements," the aviation regulator said. The shocking incident happened on flight AI-102 on November 26 last year. Passenger Shankar Mishra, in an inebriated state, allegedly peed on a 70-year-old female passenger, who was travelling in business class.

The DGCA learnt of the incident on January 4, following which a show-cause notice was issued to the stakeholders. "The written reply of Air India and the personnel involved were examined, following which enforcement action has been taken. Besides the penalties, the licence of pilot in command has been suspended for a period of three months," the DGCA said. Air India too announced a four-month flying ban on Mishra.

Child marriage ban: Cabinet clears release of funds for Spoorthi scheme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH an aim to prevent child marriages in Karnataka, the state cabinet on Friday approved the release of Rs 12.51 crore for 'Spoorthi scheme'.

An initiative of Department of Women and Child Welfare, a year-long awareness campaign will be launched as part of the scheme, said Law Minister JC Madhuswamy.

Addressing the media after the cabinet meeting, the minister said that NGOs will be roped in to implement the scheme. The scheme which was implemented in Koppala district on a pilot basis, has been successful, and will now be extended to a few more districts. Girls will be educated and offered skill development programmes.

Madhuswamy said taluks in Bagalkote, Vijayapura, Belagavi, Kalaburgi and Raichur districts have been identified where the programme will be implemented. "The project also has assistance from the Central government," he said.

The minister further said that under Prime Minister Ayushman Bharat Health Infrastructure Mission (PM-ABHIM), 114 health and wellness centres in urban areas, including corporation and municipality area limits, will be converted into Namma Clinics. Earlier, the state had planned 300 Namma Clinics in Karnataka. Now, after the Union government has granted funds another 114 clinics will be opened. "We have a target of setting up 500 Namma Clinics," he added.

Man dragged by woman on car's bonnet for 3-4 km

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CLOSE on the heels of a 71-year-old man dragged by a scooterist on the West of Chord Road in Vijaynagar in Bengaluru, yet another similar incident has been reported in the city on Friday.

A 29-year-old businessman was dragged by a woman on her car's bonnet on the busy Ullal Main Road near the Jnanabharathi campus for 3-4 km. The brother and friends of the businessman had to chase the car to stop it and rescue him.

The trigger for the incident is suspected to be road rage after both parties started fighting at a signal accusing each other of not following traffic rules.

The businessman has filed a case of attempt to murder under section 307 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) against the woman who is a resident of MV Layout in the city. The woman's 34-year-old husband has accused the opposite party of trying to pull his wife's clothes and assaulting her. The couple was returning home after a medical check-up of the woman. Following the incident, stones were hurled at her car which broke the windshields.

The Jnanabarathi police have registered a complaint and a counter complaint over the incident which took place around 10.30 am near the Mangalore Independent PU College. P9

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE

Pigs, dogs stomp blankets meant for govt hosp patients

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH @ Dharwad

IN an appalling case of negligence by the district hospital authorities in Dharwad, blankets and aprons meant for patients were seen being dried in an open ground where pigs, dogs and other stray animals roam. The clothes dried in such places are given to around 200 patients to wear, exposing them to infections, for no fault of theirs. Such gross negligence on the part of the hospital authorities shows their lack of control over the staff.

A patient attender said that hygiene is a distinct dream in such hospitals. Only during the visit of political leaders, the hospital authorities clean up the premises. "We have seen clothes being dried up in filthy places several times but we cannot question the authorities as we are scared as what will happen if they deny us treatment", she added. Majority of patients who visit the hospital are from poor financial backgrounds who come from rural areas and surrounding districts. Hundreds of patients visit the hospital on a daily basis.

Few days ago, the hospital was in the news over a bribery scandal. "The hospital receives huge grants which is misused. However, the elected representatives who claim that the hospital is the best, should be made to get treatment here. Till then the things will not improve," an activist said.

₹100-cr push to up green cover in Garden City

CM says parks, lung spaces in Bengaluru will be developed

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Horticulture Minister Munirathna after inaugurating the Republic Day Flower Show, at Lalbagh in Bengaluru on Friday. The theme for this year's show is Bengaluru's History | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

"WE are allocating Rs 100 crore in grants to increase green cover in the city. From now on, we will develop gardens that will suit the title 'Garden City'," said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, inaugurating the 213th biennial Lalbagh Flower Show on Friday.

The theme for this year's Republic Day flower show, being held at Lalbagh from January 20-30, is 'Bengaluru's History'. Speaking on the sidelines of the inauguration, the CM remarked that due to various development works, the green cover has shrunk in Bengaluru city.

The CM also stated that parks in BBMP limits, as well those under the Horticulture Department, will be developed. "In the coming budget, the government will earmark Rs 100 crore for increasing greenery and will also hold special programmes to improve horticulture and farm sector," he said.

For the first time, the state government has taken up the task of increasing green cover in the hilly regions to maintain balance in nature. Likewise, development in the horticulture realm will also be extended. "Special plans are being formulated in this regard. Along with the extension of green cover, its production and productivity will also be increased. The government is involved in developing horticulture, along with the growth of the farmlands," Bommai said.

Expressing that the flower show has turned out very well, the CM stated, "Between 10 lakh and 12 lakh people are expected to visit this time, and all the necessary arrangements have been made."

Apart from Lalbagh, Cubbon Park and other green spaces in BBMP limits, there is a need to create new gardens on the city outskirts and more trees must be planted, the CM added.

Meanwhile, Bommai looked at the exhibits in the Glass House and took stock of the arrangements, and also the special theme area at the West Gate of Lalbagh. He lauded the efforts of officials.

Gandhi Peace Foundation chairman Kumar Prashant and National Gandhi Memorial director A Annamalai will be the guests of honour.

Stop Sankey flyover: Kids to 'Uncle Bommai'

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

USING letters to send a strong message to the state government, around 2,000 students on Friday posted handwritten postcards to the Chief Minister's Office at Vidhana Soudha, urging him to drop the proposed Sankey flyover.

In the postcards, the students from schools around Malleswaram, Sankey Tank, Vyalikaval, and Sadashivanagar have addressed the CM as Bommai Uncle. Most of the postcards penned in Kannada and English read: "Dear Bommai Uncle, Please save our environment. We want to learn in a healthy and safe atmosphere. We do not want Sankey Flyover (sic)."

Each postcard also had the signature of the student, to ensure that they are genuine. The letter writing was organised by schools and resident welfare associations in the vicinity.

KR Iyer, a member of Citizens for Sankey, also a part of the campaign said that around 2,000 students have written and on Monday more students will be writing. The children are of varied age groups.

The students said they understand the impact of the flyover -- it will worsen air quality and increase the presence of PM10 and PM2.5. The trees will be axed and traffic will increase. Noise and air pollution will also go up.

Earlier, residents and activists had undertaken a signature campaign against the same project, where over 17,000 signatures were collected in two weeks. They stated that there is no need for the flyover, but traffic at Cauvery Junction needs to be regulated.

In October 2022, TNIE had written an article- Three cavеins in four weeks on Sankey Tank Road -- set off the alarm.

A student pens a letter to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, requesting him to scrap the Sankey flyover project

BBMP officials had admitted that Sankey Road had become a matter of concern with many seepage points. They also announced that an agency would be hired to assess the damages and conduct a detailed study.

Later, however, BBMP officials continued with the once-shelved Sankey flyover project. It was first mooted in 2011 but was set aside with rising opposition and litigation. Now the BBMP has prepared a DPR for a project of Rs 60 crore, where Rs 30 crore is allocated for widening the existing Sankey Road and constructing a road below it, by occupying a portion of the school and tank bund area. The remaining Rs 30 crore will be used for constructing a flyover from Sankey junction towards Cauvery junction.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said the DPR has been prepared and if people have any better suggestions for improvement or easing traffic situation, they should give it.

Interestingly, another senior BBMP official admitted that the Cauvery underpass and BDA Junction underpass were bottlenecks and needed to be demolished for better traffic regulation. The official added that Sankey flyover is a government project and has to be executed.

Survey carried out to assess Kalika Chetarike programme

2.11 LAKH STUDENTS SURVEYED

The survey was undertaken in 3,308 selected government schools across the state. Students from Classes 3, 5, 8, 9 and 10 were assessed on their language and numeracy skills. Students from Classes 8, 9 and 10 were also assessed based on other subjects as well. As many as 2.11 lakh students took part in the survey wherein they were made to answer both multiple-choice questions (MCQs) or long form questions based on their schoolwork.

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

IN order to assess the effectiveness of the Kalika Chetarike programme as well as the level of learning in government school students, the Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB) carried out the first ever State Learning Achievement Survey (SAS).

The survey was conducted by the Karnataka School Quality Assessment and Accreditation Council (KSQAAC) under the umbrella of KSEAB on January 17 and 18. Speaking to TNIE, KSEAB director Gopalakrishna HN said that the aim of the survey is to understand the learning outcome and achievements of students over the last few years as well as the effectiveness of the Kalika Chetarike (learning recovery) programme which was introduced by the Department of School Education and Literacy in early 2022 to bridge the learning gap during the pandemic.

"We will be assessing the answers given by students to determine their level of learning. This will take around 20 days, following which we will submit a report on our findings by March. While it is too early to give a proper assessment on what the learning outcomes are, the survey will determine whether there is a need to continue the Kalika Chetarike programme as well as what other measures need to be taken for students to help them improve," he said.

Interestingly, KSQAAC is also undertaking a comparative study on students to assess how learning outcomes have improved in the last few years. Director Gopalakrishna mentioned that a similar survey had taken place between 2018 and 2019 to assess students from classes 4 and 5.

TG Halli dam nears 90% completion, to supply 60 MLD water

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

WITH the Thippagondanahalli reservoir rejuvenation work nearing completion, engineers of the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) say the rejuvenated 110 MLD storage capacity reservoir, will supply 60 MLD of water in the first phase, from May.

Officials attributed the two-month delay to Ukraine war, as some imported machines from Germany were delayed. This apart, the operation was also delayed due to the flooding of the pumping station in September last year.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, a senior BWSSB engineer said the board has drawn up a plan to ensure regular drinking water supply to villages that were merged into the BBMP in 2010 after delimitation, and also to new layouts formed by the BDA.

"The BDA layouts and many villages that were added to the Palike limits in West Bengaluru will get regular drinking water supply. As we will complete the work by April, the board will first supply 50-60 per cent of water from the Thippagondanahalli reservoir and after a few more months, the supply will be increased," said a senior BWSSB engineer.

The BWSSB had planned to make the pumping station operational by March, but as the wires were burnt and some chips and pipes were damaged leading to a Rs 4-crore loss after the heavy rain and flooding of September 5, the contractors took up repair and overhauling.

According to the engineers, by making the Thippagondanahalli reservoir operational, the board will be able to cover the regular drinking water needs of 10-15 per cent of the population in Bengaluru West.

As the summer is round the corner, Engineer-In-Chief N Suresh also stressed that Bengaluru, which is receiving 1,450 MLD of water on a daily basis, will not face any shortage as the Torekadnahalli pumping station is regularly supplying water.

'UGC move to allow foreign varsity campuses good, but cumbersome'

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

The Forum of Former Vice-Chancellors of Karnataka (FVCK) has stated that while it endorses the University Grants Commission's (UGC) decision to allow foreign universities to set up campuses in India, the processes highlighted are cumbersome.

FVCK stated that the decision would be beneficial for students from lower income backgrounds to pursue education, despite not being able to afford foreign education. Meanwhile, they also stated that this would help facilitate faculty exchanges and upgradation of current local universities. However, the forum said the processes underlined by the UGC in the draft UGC (Setting up and Operation of Campuses of Foreign Higher Educational Institutions in India) Regulations, 2023, may put off foreign universities.

"While we completely endorse the decision, the procedures must be laid out in a more streamlined manner to allow universities to set up their campuses in the country. It must be ensured that all state governments are intimated properly so that they can give their full support to these universities," Prof K Narayan Gowda, FVCK vice-president told TNIE. Meanwhile, he added that issues like funding, land and collaboration with local universities must also be discussed. "There should be good collaboration between foreign and local universities so that there is an interaction, wherein our universities are able to learn from the foreign universities to be able to increase their standards. This will help ensure that our universities reach a global standard," he said.

In this regard, FVCK said that a deliberation will be held in mid-February with current V-Cs and education experts to put forth a set of recommendations to the draft regulations to ensure that they are more refined and pose little to no hassle for high-profile universities looking to set up campuses in the country.

21ST January: Today's dominant alignments are deep, dark and Scorpionic in tone. What does this mean? That we'll all have lots of secrets? Perhaps! But what Scorpio really means is that we're all being faced with a challenge to be honest - and that's not always easy! The first step is to be honest with ourselves - and that's even harder!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Your stars begin to look more relaxed and enjoyable, although those of you with responsibility for children may have to dream of future pleasures rather than experience them now! You should respect a confidence for a little while longer: the last thing you want to do is blurt out somebody else's secret.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
An upheaval on the work front may have been delayed. Today's planets put the emphasis firmly on home and family, and you may have to face up to duties you'd hoped would go away! Your financial stars begin to look easier, so that's good news. Whether your costs are actually cut is another question!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Mercurial alignments often bring out the best in your character. Today is therefore a moment for rapid thought, plenty of chat, and lively social visits. Don't let routine chores get in your way, for your first priority should be pleasure.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The emotional pressure you've been under should now begin to lift, which means you are unlikely to experience any lows, but you may miss the highs as well. You might appreciate the drift towards a more settled existence, welcoming the opportunity to restore a sense of order.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Now that the Moon is so strong, you can call the shots. There is no reason for other people to hold you back, and if they don't dance to your tune, that is their problem! In love, your dreams may be of a spiritual union rather than raw passion. Not that there's anything wrong with that!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may spend as much time as you like by yourself, and make sure that other people don't pry into your affairs or extract secrets which they have no right to know. For the business-minded, the best investments are to be found in the world of ideas or communication.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may still be wondering what hit you, or why other people seem so reluctant to apportion blame. At least, in future you won't have to work so hard to keep everything nice and pleasant. That task can be left to people who think they can do better.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Leisure activities are likely to be affected by certain long-standing ambitions, and the best course of action today is one which increases your status, prestige and self-confidence. Even romantic connections will be affected by your pride! On the other hand, there are people who might be put off if you appear to be too arrogant.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Time has moved on, and old problems are really not so important. You can now begin to look at home and family affairs with fresh eyes, free from the uncertainties of the recent past. Never forget the lessons that have been learnt, and remember that sometimes the old ways are the best.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's time for romantic optimism, perhaps to get in touch with loved ones who are far away, or who have been keeping themselves to themselves for far too long. You may bring travel plans up to date now, or risk a series of messy misunderstandings. And there's no point in that, now, is there?

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You want to do your best, to be noticed and appreciated but, above all, it's a day for partnership, for taking care of loved ones, and for doing everything in a spirit of teamwork and co-operation. If others appear to be taking a lion's share, be gracious and give them their due.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It's certainly a day to keep busy, and many of you may be putting in a spot of overtime or otherwise occupying yourself on unpaid business. You seem to have more energy than usual at the moment, especially now that all those old emotional cares are easing.

Women of Malleswaram constituency receive Sankranti wishes and OTP to claim a sari

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

KICKING off election season, politicians across Bengaluru are zeroing in on a target electorate – women – with gifts of saris, cookers, sweets, foodgrains and sundry other goodies.

Women of Malleswaram constituency were pleasantly surprised to receive Sankranti wishes and an OTP, which was to be given at the ward office to claim a sari. Those who did said they had expected an ordinary sari, but were chuffed to return home with saris worth Rs 1,500. In November, they had got the Karnataka flag and a box of Mysore Pak from the same MLA, and for Deepawali, had relished good quality sweets too.

BPL households in CV Raman Nagar, Indiranagar and surrounding areas have been carrying home a 5-litre aluminium cooker costing about Rs 1,500. Just a week ago, they had got gift boxes of plates, boxes and bowls.

Voters in Ejipura had something different: an employment camp to help them get jobs, especially those who lost their jobs during the pandemic. The camp included special arrangements for voters to avail of cards, through which they could claim certain facilities. Voters of Shivajinagar received foodgrain bags for Sankranti from one party.

Almost all 28 city constituencies are being pampered, with parties loosening purse strings, giving everything from cash vouchers to packets of ellu-bella. After elections are declared, party leaders will have to stop the flow of largesse, sources said.

The three parties have already made schemes official -- the BJP is offering Rs 2000 under Gruhini Shakti scheme, Congress is giving Rs 2000 to every homemaker under its Gruha Lakshmi scheme and the JDS has offers and counter offers. The voter is king, at least till elections are done.

Cops solve robbery case faked by shoe dealer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE West division police have claimed to have solved two robbery cases and recovered Rs 72 lakh in cash. Four accused, including three professional robbers, have been arrested.

Of the two cases, one turned out to be false where the complainant, a wholesale shoe dealer had filed a case by faking a robbery incident. He said he had incurred losses in his business and faked the robbery in order to cheat other shoe dealers to use the money to settle his debts.

The 32-year-old shoe dealer has been identified as Mularam, a resident of Cottonpet. He had filed a complaint in the Chamarajpet police station. He had told the police that on January 13 that he was attacked by two robbers under the Mysore Road flyover. After inflicting wounds on himself with a blade, he told the police that the two attackers escaped with Rs 10 lakh in cash. The accused had collected the money from other shoe dealers who had placed orders with him. The police interrogated the accused and recovered the money from his shoe shop.

The other robbery took place on January 10. A gang robbed jeweller Varun Singh Panwar and Krishnappa on Nala Road and fled with Rs 85 lakh in cash. But Panwar in his complaint had mentioned just Rs 10 lakh fearing notices from the agencies concerned. The arrested have been identified as Mohammed Jilaan (27) of H Siddaiah Road, Abdul Wahab alias Kumar (35) of Shivajinagar and Prithvik (20) of Mahalingeshwara Layout. The police are on the lookout for the other accused Hussain. The police have recovered Rs 72 lakh in cash from the accused.

The cases were registered in Kalasipalya and Chamarajpet police stations.

2 DOCS, 7 MEDICAL STUDENTS SUSPENDED FOR PEDDLING DRUGS

Mangaluru: Two doctors have been terminated from their posts and seven medical students were suspended from a private college in Mangaluru after they were found to be peddling drugs. Mangaluru city Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar said that in total, in connection with the case, 15 students and doctors of three medical colleges and hospitals were arrested. "We took a few more doctors and students into custody on Friday," he said. On Friday, the dean of a private college met Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar and informed him about the action taken against the students involved in the drug relates cases. Senior resident doctor Dr Balaji and casualty medical officer Dr Sameer were earlier arrested in the case.

Ola asked to compensate for defunct AC

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

BANGALORE Urban District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission has directed ANI Technologies Private Limited to refund the trip cost of Rs 1,837 with 10 per cent interest in addition to Rs 10,000 compensation and Rs 5,000 litigation expenses to a customer for making him suffer inconvenience and mental agony during his entire trip with Ola for eight hours, as the AC was not working in the cab.

"Ola has committed deficiency of service and also unfair trade practice. Hence, the complainant is entitled to relief," said the commission, comprising president M Shobha and members Suma Anil Kumar and Jyothi N, while partly allowing the complaint filed by Vikas Bhusan from Devarabeesanahalli.

Vikas hired an Ola cab for 8 hours on October 18, 2021, after going through the details on their website which offers cabs in the prime sedan category. However, the AC was not working.

However, there is no mechanism to lodge a complaint during the trip, and if the trip is stopped due to any issue, the whole amount has to be paid by the passenger. He paid the full amount of Rs 1,837 as per the invoice. Later, he approached customer service and requested them to refund the amount but they refused, stating he has not been charged for AC.

He also contacted Ola top officials but the matter was not settled. Ola accepted the deficiency and even apologised for the inconvenience as per its mail on November 5, 2021, they have stated that no additional charge for the AC has been billed, and issued a voucher of Rs 100 only.

Ola appeared before the commission, but failed to file its version within 45 days.

Drug controller says didn't ban condom, but only wanted students counselled

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Drug Control Department, Bhagoji T Khanpure, who had earlier issued a circular for banning sale of condoms and contraceptives to children below 18 years, clarified that their aim is to create awareness and counsel teenagers to ensure they don't indulge in sexual activities.

Khanpure said they did not issue any circular banning sale of contraceptives. He said they have only asked medical shop owners to counsel those students who come to buy contraceptives. He added that shop owners must educate children not to indulge in sexual activities at their age.

Pharmacists raised concerns that neither banning the sale of condoms or such awareness initiatives can ensure that children know about sex education. PS Bhagavan, retired deputy director, pharmacy, said that the idea of creating awareness gets nullified as Indian medical shops do not have enough certified pharmacists.

Most of the times, the counters are manned by sales persons who do not have the skill or knowledge to educate children, he said. Counselling on the counter also seems to be a bit implausible as the pharmacy will need a proper space, he added.

Earlier, Khanpure had agreed that contraceptives are not for teens and they should not indulge in sexual activities. He had also said he released the circular after the incident of contraceptives and condoms found in the bag of some Class 10 students in a city school.

Doctors and psychologists also said that the right age to be indulging in sexual activities is a social concept. Hence, counselling and awareness must begin in homes and schools.

Two from KGF arrested, 118.4 kg of red sanders recovered

Bengaluru: Staffers of Karnataka Forest Mobile Squad on Friday arrested two people, natives of KGF, Kolar and recovered 118.4 kg of red sanders in Bengaluru. The staffers also seized two vehicles (a goods vehicle and a two-wheeler). The forest department officials said this is not the first time red sanders have been seized, but not in such a large quantity. Investigation into the activities of the is still on and more people are said to be involved, hence the details of the accused are not being disclosed. He added that cases of increased seizing of red sanders was becoming a matter of concern and discussions were being held.

Ex-corporator arrested for 'assaulting' cop

ENS @ Bengaluru

A former BBMP corporator who allegedly assaulted a police inspector has been arrested by the Kaggalipura police. The accused is V Balakrishna (65), a former corporator of Yelachenahalli ward.

The police said one Puttamaraiah filed a complaint on Wednesday stating one Bhargava had trespassed into his land in BM Kaval village and had started work using a bulldozer. To conduct an enquiry, Kaggalipura police inspector R Vijay Kumar went to the spot at 5.30pm on Thursday. As there were several people on the land, the inspector asked only those related to the land can stay and others must leave.

"But Balakrishna, who was with Bhargava, started shouting. The inspector asked him to stay calm or leave. As he hurled filthy abuses at the inspector, driver Medappa intervened and was pushed by the accused. When the inspector asked him to behave, he assaulted him," the police said.

Cong can win 108-114 seats: Survey

Independent analysis predicts the Grand Old Party's vote share may rise to 40%

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A SURVEY carried out by an independent agency from outside the state has predicted that opposition Congress would win 108 to 114 sets, BJP 65 to 75 and JDS 24-34 seats.

The survey, carried out by SAS group of Hyderabad in association with IPSS team in Karnataka from November 20 till January 15, stated that Congress could increase its vote share from 38.14 per cent to around 40 per cent (plus 1.86%), while BJP's could see a dip from 36.35 per cent to 34 per cent (minus 2.35%). JDS too could suffer with a 1.3 per cent drop from 18.3 per cent to 17 per cent, it added. Others, including independents, could garner 6 per cent. Smaller parties and independents are expected to win seven seats.

Bengaluru city could elect 13-14 Congress MLAs and just 9-10 members from BJP. In the Old Mysuru region, where BJP is putting in a lot of effort, it may win only 10-14 seats. Congress could romp home with 24 to 25 seats, while JDS is expected to get between 21 and 22 seats.

In the Belagavi or Kittur Karnataka region, Congress is expected to get 27 to 28 seats and BJP, 14 to 16 seats. In coastal Karnataka, which is its stronghold, BJP could maintain its numbers at 12 to 13 seats, while Congress may get only around seven to eight seats.

In Hyderabad-Karnataka, where former BJP leader Janardhana Reddy could play spoilsport, BJP could get 12 to 14 seats, while Congress may win 21 to 22 seats. In Central Karnataka, Congress is expected to get 16 to 17 seats, while BJP only 8 to 9 seats. The survey showed that BJP could suffer in many seats as there is anger among voters over BS Yediyurappa being asked to step down as chief minister.

The survey indicated that Congress would get the maximum support from backward, SC/ST and minority communities. On who would Vokkaligas support, the survey stated that 50 per cent of the community could back JDS, 38 per cent Congress and 10 per cent BJP.

Janardhana Reddy's Kalyana Rajya Pragati Paksha could be the deciding factor in Koppal, Gangavathi, Ballari, Kolar, Davangere and Raichur and the new party could even win some seats, it predicted. If AIMIM contests, it could affect the voting pattern in only about six to seven seats, it added.

MY TAKE

PERMISSIBLE DRINKING AGE WITHOUT SURVEILLANCE IS AS GOOD AS NO RULE ON IT

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

CONTRADICTION in an Act and a subsequent rule over the permissible age to consume liquor has seen the state government continuing with 21 years as the permissible age for consumption in Karnataka.

Here's how: Section 36(1)(g) of the Karnataka Excise Act, 1965, prohibits sale of liquor to persons under the age of 18 years. But as per Rule 10(1)(e) of the Karnataka Excise (General Conditions of Licences) Rules, 1967, sale of liquor to persons below the age of 21 is prohibited.

The state excise department stated that in consideration to objections raised by public, associations and media with respect to the draft rules lowering the age limit from 21 years to 18 years, the draft rules published to amend Rule 10 (1)(e) of the Karnataka Excise (General Conditions of Licences) Rules, 1967 and substitute the words 'eighteen years' for the words 'twenty-one years', was withdrawn.

But that's no reason to cheer about. There is a problem. Whatever the permissible age limit, with no enforcement or surveillance to keep a check on, the number of under-aged youngsters buying and consuming liquor just cannot be estimated. Neither can the rampancy of such under-aged youth slipping in to buy or consume alcohol — basically, none has estimates about how rampant it is.

Boards are displayed in some bars & restaurants, pubs and wine stores reminding — sounds like a caution — that those below 21 are not allowed to buy or consume liquor. But few keep tabs. The practice of asking youths for age-proof before being allowed consumption or sale is rare.

> Whatever the permissible age limit, with no enforcement or surveillance to keep a check on, the number of under-aged youngsters buying and consuming liquor just cannot be estimated

According to a report by National Family Health Survey (NFHS)-5 and Credit Rating Information Services of India Limited (CRISIL), about 11 per cent of the 6.20 crore population of Karnataka consumes alcohol. Unfortunately, there is no adequate force, nor the will, to maintain surveillance on who among the 68.20 lakh people consuming alcohol in the state are under-aged, and enforce the permissible age limit.

It does not matter whether the permissible age is 18, 21 or 25, if there is no proper screening in place to ensure that under-aged youth do not consume alcohol, the whole effort of formulating such a rule or enacting a law is wasted.

There is a basic problem with the enforcement of permissible age for liquor consumption. Sales are given priority over keeping a check on what the age of the buyer is. Karnataka is ranked second in liquor sales revenue after Uttar Pradesh in India. Also, several wine store and bar & restaurant owners admit that it is a Herculean task to check each and every youth who may look under-aged but isn't, and yet there are many who are actually under-aged and look old enough to be allowed. It's an awkward area for enforcement.

That leaves us to fall back on the old adage: "Education begins at home". It all finally rests on the upbringing and the peer circles that the youth moves in, and what kind of impressions are cast on their mind in the most impressionable years before they are out in the open world.

Well-meaning advice comes by the dozen. Discouraging the youth to stay away from alcohol makes sense, and for a good reason. Alcohol is linked to suicides and are known to be home-breakers. It is also linked to chronic depression, playing a destructive role in one's life.

There are studies which do say modest alcohol consumption is good for the heart. But ask cardiologists, they will say: "It may be good for the heart, but the heart is not the only organ in the body."

Knowing well that alcohol is potentially harmful if one crosses the line, those on the threshold, beyond which consumption is legally allowed, may do well to be responsible with their intake — or better still, just keep away from it. Cheers to that!

Nod for amendment to site rules

MADHUSWAMY said the cabinet also approved to amend Karnataka Urban Development Authority (Allotment of Sites) rules. At present, 5 per cent of the residential sites developed by government agencies are allotted to the family members of martyrs. But there was no provision for the wife of a martyr to get residential site under this rule. This is why we have decided to bring the amendment," he said.

1. All 847 auxiliary nurse and midwife centres in Karnataka will be upgraded and given additional staff
2. 100 Ambedkar hostels will be constructed at an estimated cost of ₹600 crore
3. Backward Class residential schools in the name of Narayana Guru will be constructed at an estimated cost of ₹71 crore
4. ₹40 crore approved for the new Human Resources Management System software
5. ₹15 crore approved to purchase electronic gadgets for Karnataka public schools

Hariprasad: If voted to power, we will send corrupt BJP leaders to jail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

"IF we come to power, we will send all those involved in corruption to jail. For the BJP government, which has 90 days of power, I will challenge Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's own lingo: "If they have the guts, let them send us behind bars," thundered Council Opposition Leader BK Hariprasad here on Friday.

At an interaction with the media at the Press Club of Bengaluru, he was retorting to the statement that the BJP government would investigate cases against Congress leaders, including Siddaramaiah, for allegedly indulging in corruption during their rule between 2013 and 2018. He claimed that Congress will win a clear majority in the Assembly polls as people are fed up with price rise, especially of LPG cylinders. "Congress will garner 35-40 per cent vote share and win the hearts of voters and those who will vote without the barriers of caste and creed. The clear mandate will give no scope for any horse trading," he said.

"KPCC president DK Shivakumar has prudently got his own survey done and so has CLP leader Siddaramaiah as it is a question of their political survival. The AICC, too, got its own survey done," he said.

The 36-member election committee of the party will shortlist candidates based on the surveys, and opinions of leaders at the District Congress Committees and blocks, he said.

On PM Narendra Modi reportedly asking former CM BS Yediyurappa to take Muslims into confidence ahead of the polls, Hariprasad said it is like the devil preaching Gita. "Whatever Modi says, minorities will not trust him as his and BJP's principle is violence and falsehood. The BBC documentary has also shown Modi's role in the Gujarat riots. BJP's politics revolves around hatred and vengeance. But as the polls approach, they have realised that love jihad, hijab and halal will batter BJP. Since Muslims will not trust Modi, they have let Yediyurappa, who had worn Tipu's headgear sometime back, to convince the community," he charged. Hariprasad said being a long-time MP, he knows both Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah personally since 1990.

On the controversy about his remarks on 17 Congress and JDS MLAs, who joined BJP and toppled the Congress-JDS coalition government, Hariprasad clarified he did not use the word veshya (whore) to describe them. "If there is footage showing me using that word, I am ready to resign as MLC," he said.

IN ALL 4 DIRECTIONS

BJP yatras to start from Feb-end, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday said the party will start yatras from four directions simultaneously from February-end.

Speaking to media persons after a meeting to discuss party programmes in January and February at the BJP office in Bengaluru, Bommai said the details of the yatras will be worked out soon. The CM said that during the meeting they have decided to continue the Jan Sankalpa yatra till February-end, and also opinions will be sought for preparing district and state-level manifestos.

The party will be holding many programmes in taluks, districts and state-levels, including meetings of various frontline organisations of the party. BJP president JP Nadda is taking part in Vijaya Sankalpa yatra in Vijayapura district on Saturday. Bommai will launch Vijaya Sankalpa yatra in Tumakuru while other senior leaders will be attending similar programmes elsewhere on Saturday. Bommai said they will prepare a list of central and state government programmes to be handed over to all households. "The party central leaders will decide on the candidates' list. We have discussed various activities to strengthen the party organization," he said.

Responding to a question about why former chief minister BS Yediyurappa was not invited to a party meeting, he said, "This is a preliminary meeting and seniors will be consulted after we work out the basic details."

Inferiority complex

Bommai hit out at KPCC chief DK Shivakumar who reportedly claimed that BJP MLA from Haveri will join Congress. "Let Shivakumar look at who has remained in Congress," he said, adding those suffering from an inferiority complex make such desperate statements.

BJP Mahila Morcha meet in Tumakuru

Tumakuru: Days after the Congress organised 'Naa Nayaki' convention at Bengaluru's Palace Grounds, the two-day national executive of the BJP Mahila Morcha commenced in Tumakuru on Friday. Close to 150 delegates are participating in the meet that is likely to discuss the role of women morchas ahead of Assembly elections in nine states in 2023, including Karnataka. Various issues and aspirations of women and strategies will also be chalked out at the meet. On Saturday, BJP national general secretary (organisation) BL Santhosh will address the meeting in the presence of the CM and other BJP leaders.

Siddu predicts JDS-BJP pact, chants unity mantra

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

ANTICIPATING a JDS-BJP pact in the 2023 Assembly elections, the Congress leaders have already started preaching the unity mantra to their party workers to storm back to power with an absolute majority in 2023.

Former chief minister Siddaramaiah said that he had lost the Chamundeshwari election in 2018 to GT Deve Gowda due to BJP's strategy to field a weak candidate which facilitated the transfer of votes to JDS.

Observing that Congress gets defeated due to internal wrangling, he said, "All should bury their differences and work for the party candidate as people want to remove the BJP government." He alleged that JDS has no ideology and only wants to enjoy power by joining hands with BJP or Congress, he said, adding that the party is ready to defeat both BJP and JDS, even if there is an understanding. "The JDS won only 10 seats in 1999, and 59 in 2002, and was reduced to 37 in subsequent elections. How can they come back to power on their own with 120 seats, when in 2003, they had so many leaders and still only won 59 seats," he said.

JDS presence is limited to only eight districts, and they might manage to bag 20 to 22 seats, he said. Countering Kumaraswamy's allegations, Siddaramaiah said that the JDS- Congress alliance was dismantled due to Kumaraswamy's mistakes.

"The government would have survived for another year if Kumaraswamy had not extended his stay in the US instead of rushing back to take the legislators into confidence. The JDS did not take the senior partner, Congress, into confidence in transferring and appointing chairmen to boards and corporations," he said. Thanking the people of Chamuneshwari constituency for electing him five times, he said that there has been a communication gap for over a decade which has worked against him in previous elections, and urged the party workers to defeat GT Deve Gowda.

The AHINDA leader hit back for branding him anti-Vokkaliga and Lingayat when his social sector programmes, loan waiver, Indira canteen, and others have catered to the poor from all communities.

Santhosh out to ruin Siddu's party in Kolar

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

KOLAR is now the new battleground of Assembly polls after Opposition leader Siddaramaiah recently expressed interest to contest from here.

Now, BJP national General secretary (organisation) BL Santhosh has shifted his focus on the constituency, despite having had to work on the polls in nine other states this year. Santhosh's visit and his meeting with BJP-RSS cadres in Kolar to get a first-hand ground report has caused much concern among Congress leaders, who are planning an effective counter-strategy.

BJP has a small presence in Kolar and its 2019 candidate managed to win only 6.96 per cent of votes. In 2013, BJP's vote share was just .99 per cent and the party candidate won just 1,617 votes. The shockingly low figures were because that year senior leader BS Yediyurappa had broken away from BJP and floated his own KJP. In the 2008 election, BJP won around 5,600 votes, which amounted to 4.47 per cent of votes.

But it has not been a smooth run for Congress either, as it managed 21.5 per cent of votes in 2018 and 36.8 per cent in 2008. Experts said that Varthur Prakash, who won as an independent here in 2008 and managed to get 35,500 votes in 2018, could be a headache for Congress if he contests. The big worry for Congress would be to neutralise the influence of Prakash among backward classes, especially Kurubas.

While BJP may not be able to defeat Congress, it could join hands with the common enemy of Siddaramaiah, JDS, to dent the prospects of the opposition party. JDS won the election here in 2018 by garnering around 46 per cent of votes, while it managed 30.8 per cent in 2013.

Congress sources, however, said the party would fight the elections as a team and it has formed a team of senior leaders and former ministers, whose names have been kept under wraps for strategic reasons, to win the crucial election. This is probably the first time that the Kolar constituency has garnered such political attention.

Niti Aayog says no to pharma park in state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

KADECHUR in Yadgir district has failed the Niti Aayog's test to host a pharmaceutical park, while Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh have made the cut. It is now left to the state government to set up the park as it has cleared several projects to be set up at the facility during the recently held Invest Karnataka.

Union Minister of State for Chemical and Fertilisers Bhagawanth Khuba on Friday said that several states had submitted proposals to the Centre along with Karnataka, but the Niti Aayog shortlisted three states depending on different parameters and facilities provided. The policy-making agency has also considered the location benefits for conducting the business.

"I was hoping for a pharma park in Karnataka ever since I got elected, but it failed to meet the Niti Aayog parameters. It also cannot be reconsidered on the criterion of Kalyana Karnataka being backward. But during Invest Karnataka, the state government signed MoUs worth Rs 2 lakh crore and has been pushing pharma companies to set up units at Kadechur," he added.

On setting up a fertiliser company in the North Karnataka region, which has been pending for long, he said, "Instead of starting a new company, the Union government decided to rejuvenate closed factories. Five such units have been restarted. The total fertiliser demand in the country is 3.4 lakh metric tonnes and the existing companies are meeting it. There is no proposal to set up a new fertiliser company."

He said that despite a three to four-fold increase in prices of fertilisers in the international market, the Narendra Modi government has insulated farmers by increasing subsidies, which is expected to balloon to Rs 2.5 lakh crore this year from the previous year's Rs 1.4 lakh crore. Farmers are getting urea at Rs 262 and DAP at Rs 1,350 per bag.

In some countries, fertiliser production has been stopped because of high prices and farmers are not getting this much-needed input. In India, however, no untoward incidents have been reported over the fertiliser issue since 2014 as proper distribution has been ensured, he said.

BOMMAI SEEKS REPORT ON CROP SOWING PATTERNS

Crops must be grown in balance to ensure food security isn't hit: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai asked the Ministry of Agriculture and the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices to create a scientific outlook report to help farmers decide crop sowing patterns in advance.

Bommai inaugurated the International Trade Fair - Millets and Organics 2023 in Bengaluru on Friday, and urged for creating awareness among farmers over growing other cereal crops and not just commercial crops (wheat and rice).

All the crops must be grown in balance to ensure food security in India is not affected, he added. Over years, demand for millets has soared, and the government is also taking initiatives to provide incentives to farmers to motivate them to grow more millets.

Bommai also suggested that the rural credit system be changed to boost the local economy. The land-to-debt ratio must increase and farmers' accessibility for loans must be there.

In 2022, 33 lakh farmers were given loans at zero interest, of which 3 lakh were new farmers, he said, adding that other schemes have also been launched. Agricultural universities were also advised to conduct more research on growing millets for more information that can benefit the farmers. He said that researchers must come to the farmers' land rather than studying it in a controlled environment for appropriate results.

Business owners at the mela said that the response to millet products have been significantly changed over the years.

Students object to grass art at varsity

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

GRASS art in the shape of Shivalinga, Nandi and a snake at Karnatak University in Dharwad are making many heads turn. A section of students are trying to voice out against the religious signs being carved out of grass in the garden.

They are now demanding signs of other religions too if the university plans to keep it.

The art pieces have come up in the garden area in front of the main administrative building of the KUD. The students, who are opposing it, said that the KUD is an educational institution and there is no scope for displaying religious symbols in the campus.

"There was a hue and cry recently when people wanted to construct a temple inside Bengaluru University. It's good to keep the varsities free from religious issues. The students are asking why the grass cutting is done to show religious symbols belonging to one particular community. If the KUD wants to go ahead with the project they should ensure symbols of all the communities as the students who study here come from all walks of life and belong to different religions," said a senior student from the KUD.

The work was taken up a few weeks ago.

An official from the administration of Karnatak University in Dharwad said that the students who are opposing it are seeing religion in everything.

"One of the main lines at the entrance of the university states that one must bow before entering the temple of knowledge. Now you can interpret it in another way as well. Hence I request the students not to indulge in such acts of opposing everything. In fact, there were no orders given to the gardening staff to make shapes of religious symbols. The work is done by the gardening team," the official said.

Greens worried over auction of mines

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@ Ballari

IN the wake of the state government floating tender for mining of 1,040 hectares of land in Ballari and Vijayanagara districts, environmentalists are worried whether the mining companies will adhere to environment guidelines.

A senior officer in the mining and geology office, Ballari, said that three new mining companies may be awarded the lease to 1,040 hectares of land put on lease. Online tender notification will be open till February 27.

Ballari and Vijayanagara districts are rich in iron ore mining. JSW Steel Plant, NMDC and Hosapete Steels are among the big names in the districts.

However, the Karnataka High Court had last week ordered issue of summons to five mining companies after they violated mining guidelines and damaged Archeological Survey of India (ASI) protected monuments in Sandur taluk of Ballari district.

"Recently, the Supreme Court gave the green signal to increase the mining limit from 28 MMT to 35 MMT. E-auction started and legal documents and following of strict rules have been made mandatory. 108.62 MMT iron ore can be mined in Ballari district", the official added.

Environmentalists, however, say that government should also keep the protection of environment in mind while focusing increasing revenue through mining. The department should mark the reserve forest area, an activist said.

Gas leaks: NGT slaps ₹10cr fine on apparel unit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Visakhapatnam

THE National Green Tribunal (NGT) has imposed a fine of Rs 10 crore on Brandix, holding it responsible for the two gas leaks at the apparel unit in Atchutapuram Special Economic Zone (SEZ) in Anakapalle district. Of the total sum, the management of the apparel unit has been directed to pay Rs 5 crore as compensation to 539 employees who were affected by the gas leaks. Each victim has to be given Rs 1 lakh. The remaining amount has to be used for environmental improvement in the area by Andhra Pradesh Pollution Control Board (APPCB).

The NGT made is clear that if Rs 10 crore is not deposited with the APPCB within two months, coercive measures, including closure, may be taken. It asked Andhra Pradesh State Legal Services Authority to prepare an action plan for identifying the victims and distributing compensation.

After an unidentified gas leaked in the apparel unit on June 3, resulting in scores of employees falling sick, suomotu proceedings were initiated following media reports. A committee was appointed and even as the NGT court was about to deliver a judgment, another gas leak was reported in the same unit on August 2. The panel took the second incident into account as well. As reported by the management of the company, employees had complained of vomiting, bowl irritation and breathlessness after inhaling the gas. The APPCB chairman had submitted the committee's report on the findings to the NGT on December 14, 2022. According to the report, air and dust samples collected from the area and buildings of Brandix Intimate India showed presence of chemicals like acetonitrile, dichoromethane, ethyl acetate, n-hexane, toluene, chloromethane, cyclopropane, acetaldehyde, furan, acetone, 2-methyl propanal, n-butanol, 2-methyl furan, 2-butanone, benzene, 2, 3-butanedione, 2-methyl butanol and chlorpyrifos.

What will KCR gain by defeating Cong, asks HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

JDS leader and former CM HD Kumaraswamy on Friday said he was clueless about Telangana Pradesh Congress Committee (TPCC) president A Revanth Reddy's allegations that Telangana CM K Chandrashekar Rao was indirectly helping the BJP win the upcoming Assembly elections in Karnataka by offering Rs 500 crore to a prominent Congress leader to work against the party's interests.

"Rao's fight is against the BJP. What will he gain by ensuring the defeat of Congress candidates? I have no clue on Reddy's statement. I am focusing on JDS' Pancharatna Yatra. I need people's blessings rather than money," he told reporters in Vijayapura.

Asked about Chamarajpet MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan's recent meeting with Rao in Hyderabad, Kumaraswamy maintained that "anybody can meet anyone".

Meanwhile, KPCC president D K Shivakumar said that he had read news reports about Reddy's allegation and said he will react only after ascertaining the facts about the issue.

2 COMPLAINTS FILED, 5 HELD

FOLLOWING the complaint by the woman's husband, the police have registered a case under 10 different sections against five persons of the opposite party. Reacting to the incident, Laxman B Nimbargi, DCP (West), said that five persons have been arrested including the woman and the businessman who was dragged on her car's bonnet.

The arrested are the car driver Priyanka, who was booked in an attempt to murder case (IPC 307) and Darshan, Yashwanth, Sujan and Vinay who have been booked on charges of assault or using criminal force against a woman with intent to outrage her modesty (IPC 354).

First Complaint

S Darshan, a resident of Mariyappanapalya, who was dragged on the car's bonnet was the first to file a complaint against Priyanka, her husband V Pramod and another person Nithish. He said that when he was driving his Maruti Swift car, he questioned Priyanka for not stopping her Tata Nixon car despite the red signal. He alleged that the woman made some vulgar gesture and abused him in filthy words. Darshan says that he followed her, intercepted her car and demanded apology. "The accused tore my shirt and assaulted me. Policemen who came to the spot asked us to come to the police station but Priyanka refused and started to drive the car. As I was standing in front of the car to prevent her from fleeing, I fell on the bonnet as she started driving. She drove the car for 3-4 km before locals stopped it. The woman was speeding the car and tried to kill him," Darshan said in the complaint.

Counter Complaint

In a counter-complaint, V Pramod said that Darshan abused his wife and pulled her clothes after accusing her of jumping a traffic signal even though they were not at fault. "We were very scared as we were outnumbered and had no option but to leave the spot. When we tried to leave, Darshan jumped and sat on the car's bonnet," Pramod said in his complaint.

Case against jail inmate for making threat call to Gadkari

ENS @ Bengaluru

A case is registered in connection with the alleged threat call made to the office to Union Minister for Road Transport & Highways Nitin Gadkari, Karnataka Home Minister Araga Jnanendra told reporters on Friday.

Jnanendra said that the police had registered a case against the person who made the alleged threat call. The Belagavi Rural police, on Tuesday, registered a case against suspect Jayesh alias Shakira, an undertrial lodged at Belagavi Central Prison at Hindalaga under provisions of the Karnataka Prisons (Amendment) Act - 2022 and the IPC, based on the complaint filed by the chief superintendent of the prison, Krishnakumar.

The minister warned of stern action against prison staff if they are found indulging in any irregularities, including helping jail inmates by providing mobile phones. "There are reports of certain illegal activities in Ramanagara, Tumakuru, Kalaburagi and Belagavi prisons. I have ordered for a probe. Praveen, a warder posted at Tumakuru prison, is placed under suspension," he said.He added that the Hassan police had conducted surprise checks at the district prison and seized some mobile phones. "I have asked senior officers to initiate legal actions against inmates who were using the handsets and the staff who helped them access the phones," Jnanendra added.

No government hospitals match Jayadeva's model, opine experts

NAMRATA SINDWANI
@ Bengaluru

GOVERNMENT hospitals in Karnataka have failed to adopt the structural model of Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research (SJICSR) due to their inability to standardise the structural system as done in Jayadeva over the years, opined experts.

The Indian Institute of Management, Bengaluru (IIMB) studied the functioning of Jayadeva in 2011, and they found the institute to be monumental in terms of the employee incentive schemes, effective communication channels, continuous learning and significant decision making powers adopted by the institution. These factors have been essential in making Jayadeva Hospital one of the best public hospitals in the country, doctors said.

A doctor from KC General hospital, on condition of anonymity, said that other hospitals have failed to match the level of Jayadeva for many reasons. He said, "No hospital has matched the autonomy and freedom Jayadeva has had all these years. The reputation is such that any statement made by the director is given much importance by the government as well." This has not been the case for other hospitals, who are tackling multiple administrative issues. Any administrative decision is supposed to be made from the health commissioner which delays processes.

Dr CN Manjunath, director, SJICSR, said they introduced a performance evaluation system and ensured that the employees are given incentives for work and appreciated as well. Many doctors suffer from poor mental health and are often over-stressed. At Jayadeva, work-life balance is ensured for employees to work to their fullest potential, he added.

Several doctors who have been a part of the healthcare industry for over 25 years said that there is a need change the policies. Doctors' knowledge must be upgraded and are entitled to basic rights of having a work-life balance, designated week offs and decision making powers at the administrative levels.

The concerns were raised in 2011 to ensure that the same services were provided in future and in other upcoming Jayadeva hospitals also. Dr Manjunath ascertained that until now the same code of conduct is followed in all Jayadeva hospitals and equal priority is given to both the patients and hospital employees.

In rare sighting, albino dhole found in CWS

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA wildlife, which boasts of healthy tigers, leopards and elephant populations, has added another feather to its cap. An albino dhole (wild dog) was sighted at the Cauvery Wildlife Sanctuary (CWS). According to Karnataka forest department officials, this is the first sighting of the species not only in the state but also in India.

The animal was first spotted by the foot patrolling team inside the sanctuary. Camera trap images too confirmed the presence of the albino dhole. So far, the department was keeping the unique sighting under wraps, but it was shared in public domain on Friday by a team of wildlife enthusiasts who spotted it near a farmhouse in a private land abutting the CWS.

"We have seen it on camera a couple of times. The gender is yet to be confirmed. We are now keeping a close watch on the animal's movements. It is for the first time that it has been documented," Nandish L, Deputy Conservator of Forests, CWS, told TNIE.

He said the camera trap images were captured by the department, wildlife conservationists and researcher Sanjay Gubbi, who has undertaken a study on leopards in the sanctuary. It was sighted near Sangam area and so far only one animal has been spotted.

The forest officials said that there is a healthy population of dholes inside the forest patch, almost equal to leopards. There are instances were a pack of over 30 dholes have been seen wandering together. The population of leopards is around 200 in the wildlife sanctuary. The population of dholes is yet to be assessed. While the officials are pleased with the unique sighting, a sense of worry of poaching and increased human presence also prevailed. Nandish said that protection and patrolling have been increased inside and outside the forest patches. He said that more staff will be deployed in bordering areas to keep a watch on poachers.

CLOSURE NEEDED FOR KEY ISSUES IN POLL-BOUND NE STATES

The Election Commission of India has announced the schedule for three state assembly elections—Nagaland, Tripura and Meghalaya. The elections are being held in these northeastern states amid increasing regional turbulence. The Nagas are restive over the delay in implementing the 2015 framework agreement signed by the NSCN (I-M) and the Centre. Tripura's tribals are raising a demand for carving out a separate state. A new convergence is taking place among groups supporting the demands of a greater Nagaland and the division of Tripura for a new tribal state.

The Indigenous People's Front of Tripura, allied with the BJP, has offered to merge with former Congressman Pradyot Debbarma's Tipraha Indigenous Progressive Regional Alliance (TIPRA). Pradyot has taken a hard-line stand on the creation of Greater Tipraland, a tribal state carved out of Tripura. His pro-indigenous people party recently scored a landslide victory in the Tripura Tribal Areas Autonomous District Council elections. Tripura is seeing the rise of a new regional alliance of tribal parties and a shrill campaign for a tribal homeland.

In Nagaland, too, the Naga National Political Groups (NNPGs) and the National Socialist Council of Nagalim (NSCN) decided to form a 'Council of Naga Relationships and Cooperation' to "explore, at the earliest, realistic ways for Nagas to move forward on the basis of Naga historical and political rights". The Centre has been conducting simultaneous talks with NSCN (I-M) and the seven NNPGs. Then there is the Eastern Nagaland People's Organisation (ENPO), which has threatened to boycott polls if their demand for Frontier Nagaland, comprising six districts mainly inhabited by seven tribes spread over 20 assembly constituencies, is not met. Elected MLAs of all these 20 constituencies have signed letters of support to the ENPO's demand. Government interlocutor A K Mishra was sent to Nagaland to engage with the ENPO and assure them that their demands would be considered. Meanwhile, the demand for creating a separate Garoland from Meghalaya is also gathering steam. The strategic importance of India's northeast cannot be overstated, especially with China repeatedly testing India's resolve to defend its borders. It is time to work towards the closure of key issues facing the bordering states in the northeast.

STOP THIS MALAISE IN INDIAN SPORT

Indian sport appears to have touched its nadir. In the most embarrassing episode in its history, top sportspersons have staged a protest, levelling sexual exploitation charges against a top administrator. In what can be termed a #MeToo movement, top wrestlers recently slapped charges of sexual exploitation of athletes against Wrestling Federation of India president Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh, a sitting MP. The protesters include multiple world championships medallist Vinesh Phogat, Rio Olympic medallist Sakshi Malik, world medallist Anshu Malik, Olympic medallist Bajrang Punia, and a host of other international players. The wrestlers want Singh removed, and WFI disbanded, including its state units. He is adamant and has refused to step down, denying all charges. It is more complicated because he is a powerful MP in the ruling dispensation. Despite meetings with the sports ministry, the wrestlers have yet to receive satisfactory assurances. The Indian Olympic Association, with whom WFI is affiliated, constituted a panel to probe the allegations after wrestlers sent a letter to its president on Friday. The WFI has to file its explanation to the ministry by Saturday.

Custodians turning perpetrators is the vilest form of human nature. It's a poor reflection on Indian sports and its administrators, too, showing something fundamentally wrong with the system. That the wrestlers had to resort to a sit-in protest indicates the rot in the WFI. However, such charges are not new in sports. Sexual harassment of players was not unheard of over the years, but it's of late that athletes are more aware and reporting, especially in India. Recently, former hockey captain Sandeep Singh had to resign as sports minister in Haryana after harassment allegations by a female coach. There were charges against IOA treasurer Anandeshwar Pandey last year. A cyclist had to leave a foreign camp because a coach allegedly wanted her to share his room. According to a Sports Authority of India report, there have been more than 40 cases of sexual harassment in their centres, mostly involving coaches.

Look at the mental and physical turmoil the players are forced to undergo. Sexual exploitation is a crushing psychological blow that would leave them scarred forever. Whom do they trust? Parents and guardians will think twice before leaving their wards in the supposedly secure environment of a national camp. As Vinesh said, this is not just one issue; it's about bigger issues. It's time all stakeholders come out and end this malaise.

QUICK TAKE

STUDENTS AS CYBER ENVOYS

Telangana is experimenting with adolescent students as cyber ambassadors to help prevent online crime and educate people about the pitfalls. The idea is to train over 9000 envoys across the state and deploy them as the torchbearers of cyber safety. The welcome initiative needs national resonance. Jharkhand's Jamtara, notorious as India's cybercrime hub, is already attempting to wean youth from phishing activities. All states must drive campaigns with young ethical hackers to detect crime, track criminals and counsel citizens. India faces external cyber threats, while internally, criminals are currently gaining proficiency in several language dialects to trap the unsuspecting.

Income taxes must be paid if one's income is above a threshold, irrespective of whether one is a farmer

THE NECESSITY OF TAXING FARMERS' INCOME IN INDIA

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the PM

There is a figure on the number of people who submit income tax returns, and there is a parallel figure on the number of people who pay income taxes. The latter is smaller than the former, and with a country of India's size, both figures should be higher. Direct taxes are inherently superior to indirect taxes, and the share of direct taxes to total taxes should be higher.

There are several reasons why such numbers aren't higher, evasion being one. But there are two other reasons—exemptions and non-taxation of agricultural income. The former is part of the Union Budget, and the latter isn't. The latter is part of State Budgets or should be. The Seventh Schedule demarcates such matters. Entry 82 in the Union List mentions taxes other than agricultural income, while Entry 46 in the State List mentions taxes on agricultural income. Whether agricultural income should be taxed or not is for state governments to decide. Let's say 45% of the labour force (the figure varies a bit) is employed in agriculture. As a rough indication, we keep 45% of the labour force outside the income tax net. The argument that farmers are poor won't wash. Are all farmers poor? That can't be true. Income taxes must be paid if one's income is above a threshold, irrespective of whether one is a farmer. The poor will be exempt, regardless of whether they are in agriculture.

At this time of the year, we should remember James Wilson, not because he established The Economist magazine and Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China (which later became Standard Chartered Bank). He was the first Finance Member of the Viceroy's Executive Council. We should remember him because he was the first to present a budget. He also introduced the Income Tax Act of 1860. Are farmers poorer now than they were in 1860? Clearly not. The 1860 legislation taxed agricultural income, of course, above a threshold. All those income tax provisions were meant to be temporary (five years), and they eventually lapsed.

Those who develop apoplexy at the mention of taxing agricultural income should read the report of the Indian Taxation Enquiry Committee (1924–25). I will give a longish quote since it is educational on history and equity issues.

"It will thus be seen that, in the first instance, agricultural incomes were assessed to income tax and that when the income tax was replaced by a license tax, they were assessed to a corresponding burden in the shape of a cess. It was the continuing existence of this corresponding burden that was responsible for their exemption in the Act of 1886. The corresponding burden has now been removed under a system under which there is no charge on the land except the land revenue and the local rate. Consequently, there is nothing in the history of the case to justify the continued exemption of this class of income from the income tax, and this is a circumstance which was recognised by more than one prominent non-official in the debate on the proposal made in 1918 that incomes from agriculture should be taken into account in determining the rate at which the income tax was to be levied on incomes from other sources. The consideration of the bearing of this question upon the equitable distribution of the burden of taxation is apt to be confused by arguments relating to the poorest of those who derive their living from the land and especially to the cultivators of uneconomic holdings. There is no doubt that, under the system of fractionation of holdings which prevails in India, the difficulties of the poorest cultivators are considerable, but this is a question which has no concern whatever with the question of imposition of income-tax upon incomes from agriculture. The income tax is imposed only on incomes over Rs.2,000."

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Every contemporary counter-argument was discussed threadbare and rebutted. In 1932, the Federal Finance Committee of the Round Table Conference and its report had a view that was no different.

That was a colonial period. Are farmers poorer now than they were in 1947? This, too, is meant to be a rhetorical question. If so, why did we have Agricultural Income Tax Acts in Bihar (1938), Assam (1939), Bengal (1944), Orissa (1948), Uttar Pradesh (1948), Hyderabad (1950), Travancore and Cochin (1951), Madras and Old Mysore State (1955)? Note that in the present geographical compositions, many states retain these statutes and their successors. Except for Karnataka, they haven't repealed these. They do tax some kinds of agricultural income, especially plantations.

Post-Independence, several committees have recommended taxation of agricultural income—Report of the Taxation Enquiry Commission (1953–54), Raj Committee on Taxation of Agricultural Wealth and Income (1972), Fourth Five-Year Plan (1969–74), Report of Fifth Finance Commission (1969), Tax Reforms Committee (1991), Kelkar Task Force on Direct Taxes (2002), White Paper on Black Money (2012) and Tax Administration Reform Commission (2014). They have also listed anomalies that arise.

First, the laundering of non-agricultural income as agricultural income and consequent evasion and litigation. Second, laundering is not only done by individual farmers but also by the corporate sector. (CAG reports highlight both these points.) Second, lack of credibility about the way states issue "farmer" certificates. Third, violation of horizontal and vertical equity principles.

These arguments are incontestable. But let's ask a different question. Until the 1960s, we generally (not just economists and committees) seemed to accept the idea that agricultural income should be taxed. But since the 1970s, this has transformed into a proposal that raises blood pressure. What accounts for the change?

As the Green Revolution spread, I suspect the answer is the political clout that pressure groups of large farmers came to represent. Perversely, agricultural prosperity, not penury, led to agriculture not being taxed. As in other areas of agricultural policy, policies that benefit large farmers started to masquerade as policies for farmers. This does sound like a sweeping generalisation. But I can think of no better explanation. Which states are most luxury cars sold in? This may be an imperfect surrogate indicator, but it does tell us something.

If there are villages in India that have been described as the richest villages on Earth, and we don't tax agricultural income, something doesn't sound right. To state it directly, it is wrong.

MARKING TIME FOR THE NEXT SCIENTIFIC DISRUPTION

PRATIK KANJILAL

Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

Over 20 years after Morse code signed off and digital radio communications took over the airwaves, it seems to be back with a bang in the US. The Smithsonian Magazine reports that America's ham radio equipment makers are gaining business, and surprisingly, Morse rigs are in especial demand. That's the simplest audio hardware, as basic as the crystal radio receiver that kids used to make a generation ago, and which had started the radio boom in the early 20th century. It's a thing of wonder because it has no power source. It uses the power of the radio wave alone, detected by a crystal diode—a crystalline 'whisker' (the polymath Jagadish Chandra Bose seems to hold the first US patent for such a device). That whisker is hard to find these days, but there are groups of crystal set fans the world over, still captivated by the retro magic of zero-power communications. Morse seems to be back for similar reasons—it's simple, it's retro, it's dramatic and it's restricted to a tiny community of the adept. It's like a pagan cult.

A similar fascination for old technological magic has brought back valve amplifiers (that edged out crystal radios when broadcasting began in earnest), which are being sold at astronomical prices that would have slain a 1950s electronics engineer at 50 paces. Although valves, or vacuum tubes, are even harder to find than crystal diodes, it's probably worth it. Because a valve amp has a warm, smooth response that no transistor can match. They're not very good with the heavy bass which now dominates music, but they render midranges, trebles and the human voice with magical warmth. The valve set craze was preceded by the return of vinyl, which also sounds better than digital music, and the scratchy sound of dust in the groove—the sort of thing that Dolby was invented to iron out—is now sought after, a signature of better times, so better that they even sounded better.

While hobbyists are going retro, hard science and technology are slowing down, finds an analysis published in the year's first issue of Nature. Michael Park, Erin Leahey and Russell J Funk have applied their new 'CD Index' to six datasets covering 45 million papers and 3.9 million patents filed over six decades. The index tracks citations, surmising that breakout research is more likely to be cited than related work which it cites. The study reports a steep drop since World War II in "disruptive science", which breaks completely new ground and renders former gold standards outdated—like the Bohr atom, which explained the energetics of orbiting electrons, and made earlier models of atomism redundant.

Spurred by conflict, the sciences made giant strides between the wars, and superpower rivalry sustained the momentum through much of the Cold War which followed. Penicillin revolutionised medicine in 1928 and the Apollo 11 mission, which brought back pictures of Earthrise from the Moon, changed humanity's perception of our place in the universe as powerfully as Giordano Bruno, Galileo and Copernicus once had. And then the atomic and hydrogen bombs brought fresh, unpleasant insights. In technology, semiconductors changed how stuff was done in every discipline, from how to teach schoolchildren to how to land on the moon by computer guidance.

AP

> Science appears to have been flattened. Most of the research is incremental rather than disruptive. It's a slow, steady march forward

But grand stuff like that has been happening less and less, though paradoxically, scientific publishing has exploded. There's just too much research for peer-reviewed journals to publish in good time, and the pandemic, when research results were sought almost in real time as labs and pharma companies raced to find vaccines and drugs, made inevitable the rise of open access preprint servers. Covid research was a life and death matter, but a lot of what's prepublished these days in other disciplines would never have passed muster earlier.

There's no stopping the deluge of papers because academics are under unprecedented pressure to publish—almost anything at all—just to keep their jobs. Rewrite the summary of a contemporary paper in plain language, and you may find nothing you didn't know earlier. Also, academics has deepened—students of human origins, earlier content studying evidence-rich subjects like Australopithecines, Acheulean hand axes and such, must now also know about genetics and Denisovans, a race inferred from the slender evidence of the finger-bone of a girl. Academics has also broadened across disciplines—economists make sense of history and life scientists study mycelia, the silvery threads spun by funguses through the soil, to understand global warming and climate science.

But in the course of this deepening and broadening, science appears to have been flattened, too. Most of the research is incremental rather than disruptive. It's a slow, steady march forward, with no big bangs. Not just run-of-the-mill PhD work, think of the news-making Nobel-winning work in recent years. The detection of the Higgs boson and gravitational waves confirmed Einstein's work. They assured us that quantum physics was right. They didn't change our world-view.

Science may have turned conservative because much of current work is conducted by very large teams, distributed across continents. The ability to pull together may have become more important than individual initiative. But perhaps science is also going through a patch in which nothing much remains to be discovered within the current framework of knowledge discovery and management. Science does slump sometimes. See how many centuries the classical medical theory of the four humours lasted in Europe, before the foundational dissection work of Leonardo da Vinci, Andreas Vesalius and others spurred doctors to begin discovering the principles of modern medicine. Are we going through a brief slump, as the sciences consolidate for the next disruption?

Farmers in distress

Apropos of Culling of tigers 'mere proposal', but not rejected (Jan 20). Forest Minister A K Saseendran played down his earlier statement on culling of tigers by saying it was a mere suggestion. The minister need not have swallowed his words if he really understood the predicament of farmers who are at the receiving end of the attacks.

S Lakshmi, Hyderabad

Humans are priority

Apropos of Culling a betrayal of conservation efforts (Jan 20). There are two aspects: conservation of tigers and their entry into human habitats. One species must not thrive at the cost of the other. Wild animal populations are growing in forests, and as a result, they stray into human habitations for want of space. The human aspect must be paramount and there must be a level-headed clarity about it without mixing up things.

K R Parvathy, Mysuru

Culling not an option

Apropos of Culling a betrayal of conservation efforts (Jan 20). The editorial has rightly pointed out that culling of tigers is tantamount to a betrayal of efforts to conserve the animal. The first step in dealing with this issue is to calculate the tiger population in Kerala. If results show an increase that breaches the carrying capacity of forests, they can be translocated to an area where the tiger population is scarce.

Spending on social sector

Apropos of Budget 2023 must prioritise India's social sector (Jan 20). Great ideas and thoughts have been presented in this column about the necessity of fund allocation to the social sector. The government should prioritise education, health, etc. to improve the living standards of the poor. This will also yield good results vis-à-vis production and supply, both of which are directly related to consumption of goods and services.

Sea erosion threatens 318 villages in six coastal districts of Ganjam, Puri, Kendrapara, Balasore, Jagatsinghpur and Bhadrak

HEMANT KUMAR ROUT
@Bhubaneswar

GJaga Rao of Ramayapatna village in Odisha's Ganjam district used to be a happy man. Like many other traditional fishermen of the region, every morning, he loved setting out into the Bay of Bengal where landing fish was never a problem. Now it is a never ending struggle with the sea.

The Bay of Bengal has advanced more than 600 metre into his village, located under Chikiti block, gobbling up hundreds of acres of farmland and more than 100 dwelling units. Rao lost his house to the marauding sea but cannot leave Ramayapatna as fishing sustains his five-member family.

Five hundred metres from the new shoreline, he currently lives in the house of another villager who left for Andhra Pradesh in search of work. "The monsoon season brings fear. No one knows when the hungry sea will devour this house too," he says.

Rao is caught between the devil and the deep sea.

Though Odisha typically has a pro-gradation coast due to disposal of sediment and discharge from Mahanadi river, it is now turning into a hotspot of coastal erosion with climate change doubling down the impact. The conversion process is rampant in hotspots like Boxipalli and Podampeta in Ganjam district, Baliapanda, Chadrabhaga beach in Puri district, Pentha and Satabhaya in Kendrapara and Chandipur beach and Subarnarekha estuary in Balasore.

At least four villages in Ganjam district face extreme coastal erosion. Podampeta under Ganjam block is now a ghost village as nearly 450 families have already been relocated to a nearby habitation.

DISAPPEARING BEACHES

Spectre over six districts

A happy hunting ground for natural calamities, Odisha faces the threat of tropical cyclones like no other. Add to it the misery of vanishing landmasses. State's Forest, Environment and Climate Change assessed sea erosion threats in 318 villages of six coastal districts - Ganjam, Puri, Kendrapara, Balasore, Jagatsinghpur and Bhadrak. While 91 villages are designated 'most prone,' 85 villages are 'prone' to sea erosion. With 49 villages facing the charging sea, Kendrapara is the worst hit. Eight each in Balasore and Bhadrak districts, four in Ganjam and one each in Puri and Jagatsinghpur districts are vulnerable to coastal erosion.

In Kendrapara district, Satabhaya panchayat under Rajnagar block stands testimony to the erosion as the sea has swallowed it. The panchayat having a cluster of 16 seaside villages has been reduced to a few hamlets by now.

The Subarnarekha river in Balasore district has already swallowed about 75 per cent of Badakhanpur village and its neighbouring Sanakhanpur. Of more than 120 families, only fifty hold on to their dwelling units while the rest have shifted base to neighbouring villages. The ferocious nature has redrawn the map of over 40 villages in Bhogarai, Jaleswar, Baliapal, Remuna and Sadar blocks in the coastal district.

According to a global study conducted by 11 researchers from six universities, almost the entire Gopalpur shoreline experienced erosion between 2010 and 2020 and the construction of Gopalpur port markedly impacted the shoreline dynamics. Of the 480 km sea coast of Odisha, erosion trend has surfaced across 227 km, accretion recorded in 150 km while coast character remains unchanged over the rest.

Professor of Geography department at FM University Manoranjan Mishra said most ports on the east coast have shown a pattern of erosion and deposition, 52 per cent Odisha coastline faces erosion at one stretch or other. Construction of breakwater perpendicular to the coastline prevented the uniform distribution of littoral sediments in all cases, he said.

Coastal infrastructure

With the Odisha government contemplating construction of 14 more ports, researchers warn such infrastructure could potentially impact its fragile coastal system. Resilience of the coastal landforms is compromised due to the construction of onshore and offshore coastal infrastructures in order to meet the growing demand for economic activities.

Previous studies too had observed a similar trend of erosion and accretion along the eastern coast. The northern part of Paradip port experiences intense erosion due to the construction of a rigid engineering structure (sea wall). The southern part of the port also had signs of erosion. Although accretion pattern was witnessed along Dhamra port from 1990 to 2000, drastic erosion was observed after the port area development in 2007.

Meanwhile, closer to Ramayapatna, erosion has impacted nesting of Olive Ridley turtles. The impact was so high that turtles for the first time in 30 years changed their nesting site from the Rushikulya rookery to a nearby Island, south of Rushikulya river, said secretary of Rushikulya Sea Turtle Protection Committee Rabindranath Sahu. Earlier, the marine turtles used to lay eggs on the 5 km beach from Purunabandha to Podampeta, north of the river mouth.

While state government had relocated residents from Satabhaya and Podampeta and laid geo-synthetic walls along the Satabhaya coast as part of protection measures, the Ganjam seaside villages have long been demanding a protection wall.

Superintendent engineer, Berhampur Irrigation division Jayadeep Panda said as per recommendations made by National Institute of Oceanography (NIO), a 3.4 metre sea wall along the 1200 metre stretch covering Ramayapatna will be built at a cost of ₹23 crore. "Work will start by next month and it will provide protection to the villages south of Rushikulya. The Podampeta stretch will be taken up in the next phase," he said.

"The best way forward is to protect salt marshes and mud flats in the coastal regions. Besides, mangrove protection and rejuvenation must be focussed. Similarly, it is critical to create soft structure instead of hard structures to fend off the impact of erosion," said PCCF and Project Director, Integrated Coastal Zone Management Project Susanta Nanda.

PM says citizen always right, hands over job letters to youth

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday drew a parallel between the business motto, the consumer is always right, and governance, where he said, "the citizen is always right."

The PM's remark came at Rozgar Mela, which he addressed via videoconferencing. He said his government had effected broad changes in the recruitment process by making it more streamlined and time-bound while boosting transparency and speed.

He distributed electronically 71,426 appointment letters to recruits in different government departments, saying the ongoing 'Rozgar Mela' exercises have become an identity of his government. The PM said that transparent recruitment and promotions generate trust among the youth.

Motivating the appointees after distributing the appointment letters, Modi said, "Serve the country with a service attitude because citizen is always right and adopt technology-driven methods to improve efficiency." He said self-learning through technology is an opportunity for today's generation. "India is now witnessing fast growth leading to a massive expansion of self-employment opportunities," he said.

Serve the country with a service attitude because citizen is always right and adopt technology-driven methods to improve efficiency

Prime Minister Narendra Modi

The PM said lakhs of families would get government jobs in the near future through 'Rozgar Mela.' The PM had last year announced the 'Rozgar Mela' drive to generate jobs for 10 lakh people.

Addressing the recruits, the PM said that a huge number of recruits are from families where no one was in government service. "Thanks to a transparent and clear recruitment process, jobs are reaching these families", he said.

Appreciating growing investments, he said that the massive investment in the infrastructure sector has boosted employment and self-employment opportunities in the country.

The appointees, recruited from across the country, will join various positions under the Central government like junior engineers, loco pilots, technicians, inspectors, sub-inspectors, constables, stenographers, junior accountants, grameen dak Sevak, income tax inspectors, teachers, nurses, doctors, social security officers, among others.

Bring back separate rly budget: Nitish

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AHEAD of the commencement of the Parliament's budget session, former railway minister and Bihar CM Nitish Kumar on Friday asked Narendra Modi government to separate railway budget from the general budget During his ongoing 'Samadhan Yatra', Nitish told mediapersons in his native Nalanda district that the old system of presentation of the railway budget in the Parliament should be restored.

"There used to be a lot of discussions on the railway budget across the country. I am not aware why the system of presentation of the railway budget was discontinued," he said.

The Parliament's budget session is scheduled to start from January 31. Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman will present the general budget in Lok Sabha on February 1.

Nitish said that large number of people were given jobs when he was the railway minister.

Shah flags challenges before forces, calls for tighter digital security net

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

STATING that challenges for the law enforcement have undergone a substantial evolution from being 'geographical to 'thematic', Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday asked policing forces to focus on urban policing, capacity building, police technology, critical infrastructure security and securing digital goods.

The minister who chaired the inaugural session of the 3-day Annual Conference of the state and UT Police heads in New Delhi said that the personnel have to cope up with the changing times as now issues have become thematic and multi-dimensional.

"Earlier problems were geographical like unrest in north-east, terrorism in J&K, LWE affected areas but now they are thematic like cyber security and data security," Shah said, adding, "The problems also have become multidimensional as narco terror and fourth generation war have chipped in."

During the three-day conference, being attended by DGPs and IGs of the state along with the senior officials of the agencies like the NIA and CRPF run by the IPS cardres, the participants are expected be to deliberate upon future course of action to be undertaken by the policing authorities during 2023 to deal with cybercrimes, ultras and extremist outfits, drug cartels, disruptors, terrorist sleeper cells, cross border terrorism, border surveillance and other important issues.

Lauding the efforts of the security agencies, the Union home minister said, "So far, in the question of internal security, we have been successful in maintaining peace in the country by and large – despite facing many odds. I congratulate all of you for your efforts to strengthen the security apparatus. All the police forces, paramilitary forces and central agencies have responded promptly in the challenging times, which has also been appreciated by the citizens"

COLOMBO MEET

Jaishankar for trade in Indian ₹ with Sri Lanka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID India's assurance to aid and abet Sri Lanka's economic crisis, External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar on Friday extended a formal invite to Sri Lankan President Ranil Wickremasinghe to visit India.

Reiterating the proposal for trading in Indian Rupee between the neighbouring countries, the EAM in Colombo said that it is essential that India and Sri Lanka streamline their trade relations. "The use of rupee settlement for trade is in our mutual interest," he said, addressing the Sri Lankan cabinet meeting.

EAM met with Sri Lankan President Ranil Wickremasinghe and other ministers and also extended a formal invite on behalf of Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his visit to India.

In July 2022, this newspaper was the first to report about India and Sri Lanka's proposal to begin trading in Indian Rupee tabled at a Sri Lankan Central Bank-led closed-door meeting with Indian corporate heads in Colombo – to discuss the way forward for trading in Indian currency.

India will encourage greater investments in the Sri Lankan economy, especially in the core areas like energy, tourism and infrastructure.

"We count on the Government of Sri Lanka to provide a more business-friendly environment to create a powerful pull factor. I am confident that the gravity of the situation is realised by policy makers here," the EAM said.

SC junks pleas challenging Bihar govt move to conduct caste census

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday junked pleas challenging notification dated June 6, 2022 issued by Bihar Govt for conducting caste census in the state.

Terming it as "publicity interest litigation", bench of Justices BR Gavai and Vikram Nath granted the petitioners liberty to approach Patna HC.

The pleas filed by non profit 'Ek Soch Ek Prayas', Nalanda-based activists, Akhilesh Kumar and Vishnu Gupta, argued that the notification is discriminatory and unconstitutional as the state is only competent to legislate law on the subjects referred in the State List of the Seventh Schedule of the Constitution of India.

"In the absence of legislation, the government can frame guidelines on the subjects which are listed in the State List. That apart, the state government can legislate on those subjects where Central legislation is not made. Therefore, the state government by executive orders cannot conduct caste census in the absence of legislation on the subject. In a state which is governed by rule of law, executive orders must get basis and genesis from law," the plea also stated.

'Chargesheets can't be in public domain'

The SC on Friday ruled that uploading chargesheets filed by probing agencies in public domain would violate rights of the accused, victim and even the probing agencies. A bench said, "Putting the FIR on the website cannot be equated with putting the chargesheets on the public domain."

5-judge bench for pleas against Shariat

The SC agreed to form 5-Judge bench to hear PILs challenging constitutionality of the muslim personal law practices of polygamy and nikah halala. The pleas were filed by BJP leader Ashwini Upadhyay and representatives of the outfit, Muslim Womens Resistance Committee.

Editors, experts alarmed over tweak in IT rules

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EDITORS Guild has expressed concerns over the proposed amendments to IT (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021, which authorise the Press Information Bureau's fact-check unit to declare a news report or content fake.

According to the draft of IT rules, social media platforms and other online intermediaries will need to remove the content if marked 'fake'.

Determination of fake news cannot be in the sole hands of the government and will result in the censorship of the press

Editors Guild

A press statement issued by the EGI stated that it is deeply concerned by the amendment giving authority to PIB to determine veracity of news reports. The Guild feels this is akin to censorship.

"The determination of fake news cannot be in the hands of the government alone and it will result in the censorship of the press," said a statement issued by Editors Guild president Seema Mustafa.

Experts have also flagged the amendment. DigiPub, a consortium of digital news outlets, said in a statement the proposed amendments to IT Rules can potentially become an 'institutional mechanism to muzzle the press'.

The ministry had initiated public consultation on amendments proposed to the rules in relation to online gaming, the last date for which was January 17. However, it has now been extended to January 25.

Internet Freedom Foundation said the IT Rules, 2021 significantly increased government control.

HARASSMENT

A 14-year-old girl allegedly committed suicide citing mental harassment by her teacher in Maharashtra's Latur district on Friday. Shrawani Sanjay Naiknavare, a Class 9 student, allegedly hanged herself at her house.

Restore statehood for J&K: Congress

Party says Reorganisation Act was passed in House in 2019 in a hurry without discussions

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

ON the second day of the last leg of Bharat Jodo Yatra in Jammu and Kashmir, Param vir Chakra awardee Captain Bana Singh and Shiv Sena leader and MP Sanjay Raut joined the yatra. The Congress on Friday said the J&K Reorganisation Act was passed by parliament on August 5, 2019 in a hurry with brute majority.

Rahul Gandhi resumed the yatra in Kathua district of J&K on Friday despite rain. The Dogri song of the yatra was also released. Due to downpour, Rahul was seen wearing a light jacket over his trade-mark white T-shirt. He was joined by Param Vir Chakra awardee Captain Bana Singh, who helped India win the Siachen standoff, and other ex-servicemen.

The yatra was halted after travelling for about 21 kilometers and would resume on Sunday after a one-and-a-half day's rest. Senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh told reporters that the yatra would culminate in Srinagar on January 30, when Rahul would unfurl the tri-colour at the party office in Srinagar.

The Congress president has invited leaders of 23 political parties to attend the Srinagar event, he said. Asked about party's stand on demand of Article 370 restoration by NC president Farooq Abdullah, Ramesh said, "The Congress feels that the bill passed in parliament on August 5, 2019 was not done in a democratic way but forcibly through the brute majority without any discussion and without any provision for examination and analysis." Ramesh said, "We want the democratic process to start in J&K, and statehood should be restored."

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi with Param Vir Chakra awardee Bana Singh and others during the party's Bharat Jodo Yatra, in Kathua district on Friday| PTI

"You talked about Article 370. In our country and in our constitution, there is Article 371 and there are special provisions under Article 371 for states like Mizoram, Manipur, Meghalaya, Tripura, Himachal Pradesh, Goa Sikkim, some areas of Assam and some areas of Karnataka-Hyderabad region," he said. On BJP charge that the yatra has become Bharat Todo Yatra as Congress leaders are sharing space with Gupkar Alliance leaders, who are preaching separatism, Ramesh said, "Whose party was running government with PDP in J&K? Who framed the common agenda between BJP and PDP? Those who level allegations, they should think about themselves." He accused Azad of being BJP's B-team.

Ramesh announced that from January 26 to March 26, there will be "haath se haath jodo abhiyan" by Congress during which party workers would visit every village and every home and do door-to-door canvassing to put across message of the yatra and present copy of chargesheet of Modi government to public.

Notice to UP govt on madrasa board's 'non-compliance'

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

TWO days after the UP Madrasa Education Board unanimously rejected the recommendation of the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) about the shifting of non-Muslim students, the commission served notice on the UP government on Friday. The commission had asked the government and the recognised madrasas to find out how many non-Muslim students were enrolled in them so that they could be shifted.

In the notice addressed to the special secretary, UP Minority Affairs and Waqf Department, NCPCR chairman Priyank Kanoongo said, "We have not received a compliance report on the recommendations shared on December 8 last year."

The commission had written to all states and UTs to conduct an inquiry about the non-Muslim students studying in recognized madrasas, citing complaints about non-Muslim students attending the government-funded or recognised madrasas. "This is a violation of the Constitution prohibiting educational institutions from obligating children to take part in any religious instruction without their parents' consent," wrote NCPCR chairman to the UP government. On Wednesday, UP Madrasa Education Board chairman Iftikhar Ahmed Javed said the Board had unanimously rejected the NCPCR recommendation.

On Friday, Kanoongo wrote to the UP government, that "madrasa board chairperson's comment violates the constitutional rights of children and disrespects the commission's mandate."

Singer faces ire over Kamatapur remarks

Singer Zubeen Garg faced a backlash over his comments on Centre's move to create 'Kamatapur' state. While performing at a function in Goalpara recently, Garg had said, "I heard Assam will be divided again. This divide and rule policy of whoever it is Congress or BJP...They are set to divide Assam. You were born in Assam but you will now need a voter card of Kamatapur state. I urge the Modi government to not divide Assam again." Koch-Rajbongshi organisations threatened to boycott him and said that the Zubeen would not be invited to the first "Kamatapur Festival" to be next month.

Two officers face action for 'ruckus' during safari

An inquiry has been ordered against two senior bureaucrats for allegedly creating a ruckus inside the Pobitora Wildlife Sanctuary on the outskirts of Guwahati. During a jeep safari, the duo, who arrived in a group of 12-14 people, allegedly smoked cigarettes with one sitting on the bonnet of a vehicle and abused the driver when the latter protested the officer's actions. Drinking alcohol, smoking and alighting from vehicle during safari are prohibited in national parks and wildlife sanctuaries. The inquiry was ordered after the Jeep Safari Owners' Association of the sanctuary had lodged a written complaint.

CM's day out in state zoo; feeds macaws

Taking time off from his hectic schedule, CM Himanta Biswa Sarma spent the morning of Magh Bihu at the Guwahati Zoo. He drove through it and fed macaws. "Had a refreshing feeling as I visited the @assamzoo, having glimpses of the animals & birds from close proximity. It was an amazing feeling to feed the cute macaws!" he tweeted. He enquired about the various ongoing works in the zoo and asked officials to give it a facelift while maintaining harmony with the flora and fauna. He also asked them to build a park at a site not used by the animals. Sarma said the state would transform the zoo into one of the most attractive tourist destinations of the region.

3 senior police officers face suspension

ENS @ Guwahati/ New Delhi

THE Election Commission of India has sought explanation from the Chief Secretary and Director General of Police of Tripura on election-related violence incidents in the state. It has also ordered suspension and immediate removal of the Sub-Divisional Police Office of Jirania, and officer-in-charge of Rani Bazar and Jirania Police Stations for not taking appropriate action in time.

The miscreants, allegedly BJP supporters, had attacked Congress workers during a bike rally, permission for which was not granted, at Jirania in West Tripura district two days ago. AICC Tripura in-charge Ajoy Kumar had sustained minor injuries. "Chief Secretary and Director General of Police, Tripura were asked to explain as to why the situation escalated despite a sufficient number of CAPF personnel deployed in the State. The Commission conveyed its displeasure in no uncertain and strongest terms on the violent incident despite the Commission's strict directions during visit to the state and thereafter," stated the election authority on Friday.

The CS and DGP have been asked to assess the threat perception to the leaders of various political parties and provide security without further delay.

Film maker Manimekalai gets interim SC relief

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

FILMMAKER Leena Manimekalai got some relief on Friday as the Supreme Court granted her interim protection from coercive action following multiple FIRs against her in various states for depicting Goddess Kaali smoking a cigarette in a poster of her film Kaali.

FIRs against her have been registered in Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Delhi. A bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice P S Narasimha while granting her protection, sought the response of those states.

The court said, "the lodging of FIRs in multiple states may be of serious prejudice."

Appearing for the filmmaker, advocate Kamini Jaiswal told the bench that apart from the FIRs, a lookout circular was also issued against her. She pointed out that Leena had no intention to hurt the religious sentiments of anyone, adding her object was to depict the goddess in an inclusive sense.

In her plea filed through advocate Indira Unninayar, Leena argued that instead of taking action against the dangerous cyber violence she faced, the state had targeted its actions against her.

"Such State action is violative of her rights to creative interpretation as a filmmaker under Article 19(1) of the Indian Constitution. It is also violative of her rights to life, liberty and reputation, and safety and safe passage under Articles 21 r/w 19(1). It also impinges upon her academic freedom, the right to impart and exchange ideas and enrich one's development subject only, to restrictions of law," the plea stated.

Nath taunts Scindia over Gwalior mayoral poll loss

Bhopal: Nearly three years after his 15-month-old Congress government in Madhya Pradesh fell apart following resignations by Jyotiraditya Scindia and 22 loyalist MLAs, state Congress chief Kamal Nath mocked his ex-party colleague and present union civil aviation minister on Friday. "We don't need any Scindia, if he (Jyotiraditya Scindia) was such a big political cannon then why did BJP lose mayoral polls in Gwalior and Morena last year?" Nath said while talking to journalists in Tikamgarh district on Friday. Just six months ago, the opposition Congress had stunned the ruling BJP in July 2022, by winning Gwalior and Morena mayoral elections after a decade. Both these defeats happened on Scindia's home turf, the Gwalior-Chambal region of MP.

L-G: Kashmiri Pandit staff to get transit accommodation in 936 flats in Srinagar

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE Lt Governor administration is constructing a transit accommodation of 936 flats for the Pandit employees in the outskirts of Srinagar.

"We are working in a sensitive manner to resolve issues of PM package Pandit employees and Jammu-based employees. The government is in contact with them and their genuine problems have reached the solutions," Sinha said after laying foundation stone of transit accommodation at Zewan on the outskirts of Srinagar.

"The maximum number of PM package Pandit employees are based in Srinagar and with this, their housing problem will be solved," Sinha said. The transit accommodation for the Pandit employees is also coming up in Baramulla and Bandipora in north Kashmir and about 1,200 flats would be completed by December.

About 5,000 PM package Pandit employees have been on strike since May 12 last year, when a Pandit employee Rahul Bhat was shot dead by militants inside Tehsildar's office in central Kashmir. The striking Pandit employees are demanding relocation to Jammu.

₹1L fine on liquor sellers, drinkers in Bihar village

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

IN Bihar's Saharsa district, a "decree" from a panchayat warned drinkers and liquor sellers that they could face hefty fines and legal actions if they were found engaged in unlawful behaviour. Tariyama panchayat under Simri Bakhtiyarpur block of Saharsa district in Kosi region took the decision to act against drinkers and suppliers in presence of Panchs (members of gram kutchery) and villagers at its weekly meeting on Thursday.

Those found in liquor brewing, consuming or selling will have to pay a penalty of ₹1 lakh, according to the 'farman' (order) issued by the panchayat at its meeting held under chairmanship of a mukhiya representative Rakesh Raushan,

"The panchayat members also imposed fines on people indulged in creating nuisance at public places in inebriated conditions. Such offenders will have to pay ₹ 51,000 as fine. We have spread the message in the entire panchayat through the public address system," said former sarpanch Bishun Deo Yadav.

The Saharsa Panchayat's decree has prohibited alcohol, toddy among other intoxicants except 'khaini' (tobacco) | FILE PHOTO

Another member Chhotelal Sah said that it was unanimously decided that no citizen under this panchayat will consume alcohol, toddy or any other intoxicants except 'khaini' (tobacco). "We want to make panchayat 'nashamukt' in phases," he added. The novel initiative of Tariyama, which has a population of over 6,000, has become a talking point in the entire Kosi region, which comprises Saharsa, Madhepura and Supaul districts.

The posters were also put up on walls across the village informing people about the decision of the panchayat

The Panchayat's decision has raised an alarm among offenders of prohibition law and it is likely to dissuade them from violating the liquor ban. Although police have also intensified their drive against those violating prohibition laws following the recent hooch tragedy in Saran district which claimed more than 70 lives.

Chief minister Nitish Kumar during his 'samadhan yatra' is also regularly raising the issue of prohibition and has appealed to people to refrain from consumption or sale of liquor in the state.

Over 4.51 lakh people have been arrested and 3.5 lakh FIRs lodged in different police stations across the state ever since prohibition came into effect in April 2016.

The panchayat members also imposed fines on people indulged in creating nuisance at public places in inebriated conditions. Such offenders will have to pay ₹ 51,000 as fine

One eye each of two bodies found 'nibbled at' in MP's Sagar mortuary

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

IN a shocking development, an eye each of two male dead bodies kept in the mortuary of the Sagar District Hospital in Madhya Pradesh, have mysteriously gone missing within a fortnight. While an eye of the first body – a 32-year-old man Motilal Gond – was found missing on January 4, the body was kept outside the deep freezer in the hospital mortuary. The eye of the second body – a 25-year-old man Ramesh Ahirwar – was found missing on Thursday morning, while the body was kept inside deep freezer at the same mortuary building.

According to the Sagar district hospital administration, the primary probe suggests that in both cases, the eye could have been nibbled by rodents.

"We've asked the staff of the Bhopal-based freezer company to come to the hospital mortuary and properly figure out how rats could've entered the deep freezer and nibbled one of the eyes of the young man's body. The company's engineers will be here to figure it out on Saturday," Sagar district hospital civil surgeon Dr Jyoti Chauhan said on Friday.

Importantly, the 25-year-old man (who was unidentified till then) was brought to the Sagar District Hospital on January 16 evening by the 108 Ambulance. The patient was put on ventilator support subsequently, but died on the night of January 17.

"As it was a pre-MLC matter, the hospital sent a memo to the local police just after the patient was admitted on January 16 evening, but none of the cops arrived. Even after the patient's death, another memo was sent to local police on January 17 night, but no cop arrived at the hospital till January 19 morning to ensure the autopsy of the body. The body's identity was established on January 19 (Thursday), after it came to the fore stating that one of its eyes was possibly nibbled by rats," Dr Chauhan said.

The Sagar district hospital's building is around 57 years old and construction work has recently been carried out there.

"Twice in 15 days have rodent control and pest control have been done at the mortuary. In the CCTV footage too, nothing incriminating has been found, which makes it a mystery as to how rats can nibble a body's eye even in a deep freezer," she added.

DEFENCE LEADERS TRY TO WORK OUT AID FOR KYIV

Despite Ukraine's pleas, Germany has so far remained silent on supply of Leopard 2 tanks

RAMSTEIN AIR BASE

DEFENCE leaders meeting at Ramstein Air Base in Germany on Friday struggled to resolve divisions over who will provide battle tanks to Ukraine as they discussed sending more military aid to the embattled country in its war with Russia. While the tank debate appeared unresolved, Germany's new defence minister suggested the issue was moving forward.

Despite pleas from Ukraine leaders, Germany has so far resisted mounting pressure to quickly supply Leopard 2 tanks to Kyiv, or at least clear the way for other countries, like Poland, to deliver German-made Leopards from their own stocks.

But German Defence Minister Boris Pistorius said that while there was no resolution yet, "we will make our decisions as soon as possible."

He said he had ordered the ministry to look into the tank stocks Germany has so he can be prepared for a possible green light and be able to "act immediately." Pistorius added that Germany will "balance all the pros and contras before we decide things like that. ... I am very sure that there will be a decision in the short term but ... I don't know how the decision will look."

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy speaking via video link, said "terror does not allow for discussion." He said "the war started by Russia does not allow delays."

US Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin warned that, "this is a crucial moment. Russia is regrouping, recruiting and trying to reequip."

Meanwhile, a Kremlin spokesman said the deployment of Western tanks would trigger "unambiguously negative" consequences. "All these tanks will require both maintenance and repairs...so (sending them) will add to Ukraine's problems, but will not change anything with regard to the Russian side achieving its goals," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said on Friday.

Meanwhile, fighting has "sharply increased" in the southern Ukraine region of Zaporizhzhia, a senior Moscow-installed official in the area said on Friday. "In the direction of Zaporizhzhia, the intensity of military activity has sharply increased," the official, Vladimir Rogov, said on Telegram.

Both Rogov and the Russian army said Moscow's forces had seized the village of Lobkove, around 50 kilometre south of Zaporizhzhia. Agencies

IMF: Western climate subsidies risk hitting emerging markets

DAVOS

THE head of the IMF warned on Friday that Western subsidies to combat climate change and encourage the transition to clean energy sources risked hitting the economies of the developing world.

The US under President Joe Biden has passed the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) which contains sweeping subsidies and tax cuts worth around $370 billion for reducing greenhouse gas emissions, making it the largest-ever US programme to combat climate change. The European Union is considering responding in kind amid fears that the IRA will encourage businesses to move factories and production to the US at a time when it is trying to strengthen its industrial base.

"My biggest concern is that something that in principle is very good to accelerate the transition to the green economy by using public money to step up private investment... may not serve well the emerging markets and the developing world," IMF head Kristalina Georgieva said at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland. She warned that the subsidies could lead to technology and production transfers from poorer emerging countries to the rich world.

"If we are to strive to get the industrialised world clean and we don't think about the emerging markets, we are all cooked," she said. Speaking alongside Georgieva, French Economy Minister Bruno Le Maire defended government backing for efforts to accelerate the transition away from fossil fuels.

"The key question is not 'China first' or 'America first', or 'Europe first': the key question is climate first," he said. Also speaking in Davos on Tuesday, EU Commission chief Ursula von der Leyen announced plans for a "sovereignty fund" and a "Net Zero Industry Act" to defend Europe's industrial base from the US and Chinese industrial subsidies. AFP

Swiggy lays off 380 staff; shuts Meat Marketplace

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FOODTECH company Swiggy has laid off 380 employees as part of its restructuring exercise. It will also shut down its Meat marketplace.

In an internal note to employees on Friday, CEO Sriharsha Majety said the growth rate for food delivery has slowed down against its projections.

"This means that we needed to revisit our overall indirect costs to hit our profitability goals.. While we'd already initiated actions on other indirect costs like infrastructure, office/facilities, etc, we needed to right-size our overall personnel costs also inline with the projections for the future. Our overhiring is a case of poor judgement, and I should've done better here," he said.

In 2021, driven by a surge in demand during the second wave, Swiggy's food delivery business grew strongly. Also, the company found early success with Instamart. Looking at these, the company invested into building its teams to be able to cater to the needs of the categories.

However, in 2022, due to challenging macroeconomic conditions, companies around the world are adjusting to the new normal, with refreshed investment horizons and accelerated timelines for profitability, he said. Over the last year, the company has also identified many areas for improvement in its pace of execution.

"Due to the iterative build-up of different organisations, there have been some extra layers created in pockets. This definitely increased our communication overhead and compromised our agility. This meant that instead of doing more with less, we were doing less with more in these cases," the CEO said.

Reliance net profit falls 15% in Q3

Jio posts 28.6% rise in net profit to ₹4,881 crore; APRU improves QoQ to ₹178.2 from ₹177.2

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S largest listed company - Reliance Industries (RIL) on Friday reported a 15% year-on-year (YoY) drop in net profit for the quarter ending December (Q3FY23).

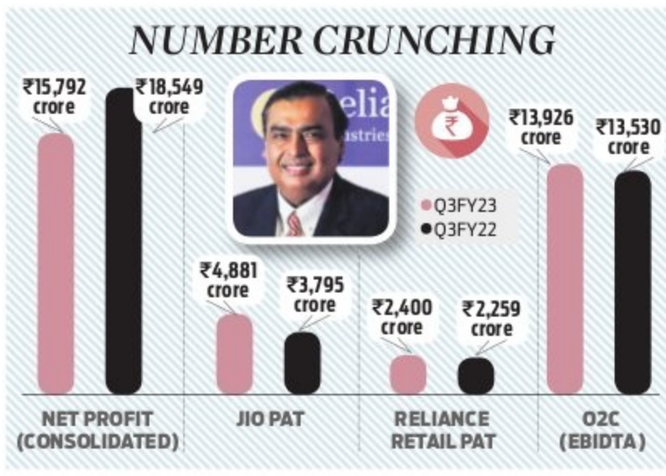
RIL consolidated net profit (attributable to the owners of the company) came down to ₹15,792 crore in Q3 compared to ₹18,549 crore reported in the year-ago period (Q3FY22).

Market analysts had predicted RIL will witness a drop in profit due to volatility in global crude prices during October-December period. In addition, RIL saw a rise in its interest and depreciation expenses. Its gross revenue in Q3FY23 grew 15% YoY to ₹240,963 crore.

The Group's mainstay O2C (oil to chemical) business reported a revenue growth of 10% to ₹144,630 crore and EBITDA growth of 3% to ₹13,926 crore. RIL said growth in EBITDA was supported by strength in middle distillate cracks but the same was partially offset by weak margins across polymer, polyester chain and light distillates products. Continued windfall tax on transportation fuels impacted earnings by ₹1,898 crore. Digital arm Reliance Jio posted a 28.6% rise in net profit to ₹4,881 crore, while revenue grew 21% to ₹29,195 crore. Net subscriber addition was 53 lakh in the quarter to 43.29 crore, while average revenue per user (APRU) improved quarter-on-quarter to ₹178.2 from ₹177.2. Retail arm Reliance Retail saw a 6% rise in net profit to ₹2,400 crore, while gross revenue grew 175 to ₹67,623 crore.

RIL plans to raise ₹20,000 crore issuing non-convertible debentures (NCDs) via private placement basis to fuel its expansion plans across businesses. Outstanding debt of RIL was ₹303,530 crore, whereas cash and cash equivalents as of December 31 were at ₹193,282 crore.

Mukesh Ambani, Chairman and MD of RIL, said, "We are making rapid progress towards implementation of new energy Giga factories at Jamnagar as part of our commitment to revolutionising green energy sector. Our strong balancesheet and robust cash flows remains the cornerstone of our commitment in growing existing businesses as well as investing in new opportunities."



HC quashes write-off order of YES Bank Tier-1 bonds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Bombay high court, in an oral pronouncement on Friday, quashed the order of YES Bank Administrator, which had written down Additional Tier-1 (AT1) bonds of more than ₹8,300 crore overnight, leaving investors high and dry.

"This will benefit all bond holders, including 63 moons technologies, which held bonds worth ₹300 crore," said 63 moons technologies in a statement, on Friday. The bonds were written off as part of a restructuring plan to rescue YES Bank in March 2020. Equity holders didn't face a similar write-down, but 75% of their shares were subject to a lock-in for three years.

AT-1 bonds are high-yield securities that typically have loss-absorbing features, meaning they can be written down if a lender's capital falls below a crucial level. This feature was invoked in case of YES Bank.

Investors, including institutional and individuals, had invested as much as ₹8,415 crore in YES Bank's AT-1 bonds.

Individual and institutional bondholders had filed several petitions in the court, arguing the bonds were mis-sold.

AT-1 bonds can be written down

Additional Tier-1 bonds are high-yield securities that typically have loss-absorbing features, meaning they can be written down if a lender's capital falls below a crucial level. This feature was invoked in case of YES Bank

Market regular Sebi had imposed a penalty of ₹2 crore on YES Bank founder Rana Kapoor in September 2022 for misselling AT-1 bonds. It was alleged the bank and certain officials didn't inform investors of the risk involved while selling the AT-1 bonds in the secondary market. The sale of AT-1 bonds started in 2016 and continued till 2019.

YES Bank, whose board of directors was reconstituted and fresh capital was infused in 2020, had issued AT-1 bonds in the nature of debentures in December 2013, December 2016 and October 2017. These bonds were written down as part of reviving the bank in 2020.

In 2020, YES Bank cited RBI's Basel III capital regulations, which says if authorities decide to reconstitute a bank or amalgamate it with any other lender under Section 45 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949, the bank will be deemed as non-viable or approaching non-viability. In such a case, the trigger for AT-1 write-down instruments will be activated, it said.

Bandhan Bank Q3 profit down 64% to ₹291 cr

NEW DELHI: Private sector Bandhan Bank on Friday reported a 64% fall in its December quarter net profit at ₹290.56 crore owing to decline in net interest income and rise in provisions for bad loans. The Kolkata-based new generation bank had posted a net profit of ₹858.97 crore in the year-ago period. However, the bank's total income increased to ₹4,840.94 crore in the latest December quarter from Rs 4,117.76 crore a year ago, it said in a regulatory filing. PTI

CHINA

EXPORTS TO NORTH KOREA MORE THAN TRIPLED IN 2022

China's overall exports to North Korea more than tripled in 2022 from a year earlier as freight train operations between the two countries resumed following a suspension to limit the spread of COVID-19. Chinese outbound shipments to North Korea surged 247.5% year-on-year to $894 million, trade data released by China's General Administration of Customs showed on Friday. Pyongyang had stockpiled large amounts of Chinese medical goods including masks and ventilators in early 2022. North Korea declared victory over COVID-19 in August, but in December it still bought 2.27 million masks, 12,000 thermometers and 40,000 pairs of medical rubber gloves from China, trade data released by Beijing showed. North Korea's parliament outlined plans to normalise industrial production and meet its economic goals this year, state media reported on Thursday. The reclusive country shut its borders to nearly all trade for most of the pandemic, only resuming supplies and products from China in 2022. That sent bilateral trade to $1.03 billion in 2022, surging 226% from a year earlier.

JAPAN

CONSUMER INFLATION HITS 41-YEAR HIGH

Japan's core consumer prices in December rose 4% from a year earlier, double the central bank's 2% target, hitting a fresh 41-year high and keeping alive market expectations that the Bank of Japan (BOJ) will soon end its yield control policy and allow interest rates to rise more, analysts say. The increase in the core consumer price index (CPI), which excludes volatile fresh food but includes oil costs, matched a median market forecast and followed a 3.7% annual gain seen in November. The annual rise in core CPI thus exceeded the BOJ's 2% target for a ninth straight month. Core-core CPI, which strips away both fresh food and energy costs, was 3.0% higher in December than a year earlier, accelerating from a 2.8% gain seen in November. The BOJ kept monetary policy ultra-loose on Wednesday but raised its inflation forecasts. Market players expect the central bank to phase out the yield curve control, when dovish governor Haruhiko Kuroda's second, five-year term ends in April.

SOUTH KOREA

Q4 GDP LIKELY SHRANK, HINTS AT POSSIBLE RECESSION

South Korea's export-dependent economy is forecast to have contracted in the fourth quarter, putting in its worst performance in 2-1/2 years as falling foreign demand and rising interest rates hurt private consumption, a Reuters poll found. Asia's fourth-largest economy is expected to have shrunk by a seasonally-adjusted 0.3% in the October-December quarter after growing 0.3% in the preceding period. If realized, it would be the sharpest contraction since mid-2020 when the COVID-19 pandemic was cementing its grip on the world. On a year-on-year basis, gross domestic product (GDP) likely grew 1.5% in the fourth quarter, the median forecast of 21 economists showed, half the 3.1% growth in the third quarter. Forecasts ranged from 0.7% to 1.9%. The data will be released on January, 26. Exports fell 9.5% in December from the year before and may weaken further amid growing fears of global recession and an economic slowdown in China, the country's largest trading partner. That, along with the Bank of Korea's (BOK) aggressive interest rate hikes to curb decade-high inflationary pressures will weigh on the economy.

Insurance industry needs ₹50K cr investment per year, says IRDA

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

INSURANCE industry needs ₹50,000 crore investment every year to double insurance penetration in next five years, according to Debasish Panda, Chairperson, the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority (IRDAI).

Indian insurance market, which is currently the tenth biggest in the world, will be the sixth biggest by 2032.

"If we have to double the penetration, every year there is a need to infuse an additional ₹50,000 crore. Some of it will come from the existing players itself by way of ploughing back their profits, some of it will come as an additional capital," said Panda while addressing the Insurance and Pensions Summit organised by the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) in Mumbai. "After March, I intend to meet the chairpersons of all the insurance companies to drive home the point that they have to factor this and start planning to infuse more capital. I'm glad some players have already started to think (around to infuse more capital) that," he said.

He appealed to the stakeholders to increase investment as the sector offers attractive returns. "I would like to reach out to the conglomerates who are present in this country, individual investors who are interested to invest. If you look at return on equity of top five insurance companies, it is 20%, the average is nearly 16% and 14% for non-life and life insurance," Panda said. "This is the time when the funds, which are available should get channelised into insurance sector," he said.

He said insurers have to go beyond the present distribution arrangements with scheduled commercial banks and have bancassurance arrangements with non-bank lenders, co-operative banks and also payment aggregators. He urged insurance firms to explore new opportunities and coverages to expand the reach of products.

"Property insurance penetration is less than 4-5%. Over 50% of vehicles are uninsured. In health portfolio, there is the missing middle in the health insurance, which will be 40-50 crore people. The industry has to come forward and tap these opportunities. They have to come to us with ideas, they can approach regulators, civil servants and political establishment to impress upon them the new areas to increase insurance penetration," Panda said.

Manoj Anand, whole-time member of Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority, said there is a need for insurers to develop annuity plans, which protect an individual from inflation risks. He said PFRDA expects ₹11,000 crore to flow into annuity plans floated by insurers in the next five years after a holder reaches retirement age.

Govt issues guidelines for social media influencers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

CELEBRITIES and social media influencers now will require to disclose their material connections with a brand, service or company, including free products, contests and sweepstakes entries, trips or hotel stays, media barters, coverage and awards, consumer affairs ministry said in a fresh policy on 'endorsements-knowhows' announcement on Friday.

"The whole issue is centred on the consumer's right to know. It is the responsibility of the endorsers, celebrities and influencers or other advertisers to truthfully disclose whatever information the consumer must know before making any decision for purchase," the ministry said.

The ministry further stated that when there is a material connection between an advertiser and celebrity/influencer that may affect the weight or credibility of the representation made by the celebrity/influencer.

These connections include monetary or other forms of compensation, free products, contests and sweepstakes entries, trips or hotel stays, media barters, coverage and awards, or any personal, family or employment relationship.

"Celebrities/influencers are always advised to review and satisfy themselves that the advertiser is in a position to substantiate the claims made in the advertisement. It is also recommended that the product and service must have been actually used or experienced by the endorser," said the ministry said in the statement.

Also laying down a note of caution for influencers or celebrities, the ministry noted should they fail to disclose any material connection or non-compliance with the Consumer Protection Act 2019 and the Rules made thereunder would make such violators liable for strict action under the law.

LTIMindtree Q3 net profit drops 4.7% to ₹1,000 crore

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

IN its first earnings report as a merged entity, LTIMindtree on Friday reported a 4.7% decline in its consolidated net profit at ₹1,000.7 crore for the quarter ending December 31, 2022, compared to ₹1,050 crore in the same quarter last year.

Sequentially, it reported a 15.8% fall in net profit. Debashis Chatterjee, CEO and MD of LTIMindtree, said the company expects its sequential growth momentum to accelerate in Q4 as the impact of furlough eases. Revenue for Q3 rose 25.3% year-on-year (YoY) at ₹8,620 crore against ₹6,880.7 crore in the year-ago period. EBITDA margin for Q3 stood at 16% against 20.7% in the year-ago period. "Combined entity has started out with a $1 billion quarterly revenue run rate, a top-quartile constant currency YoY revenue growth of 16.3%, and a robust order inflow of $1.25 billion. Clients across sectors are evincing keen interest in our unique value proposition spanning core to experience to edge," he added.

It sees a higher level of caution baked into spending plans across sectors. The Board of Directors has recommended an interim dividend of ₹20 per equity share.

Union Bank net profit doubles to ₹2,245 cr in Q3

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

PUBLIC sector lender Union Bank of India on Friday announced 106.81 % increase in net profit to ₹2,245 crore for third quarter ending December 2022, supported by rise in net interest income.

Net interest income, which is the difference between interest earned and interest paid, rose 20 % to ₹8,628 crore in Q3FY23 as against ₹7,174 crore in the same quarter last year. The non-interest income rose to ₹3,271 crore during the quarter, recording a rise of 29.6 %. Total income increased to ₹24,154 crore in Q3FY23 from ₹19,454 crore in the year-ago period.

Asset quality of the bank improved as the bank's gross non-performing assets (NPAs) declined to 7.93 % as compared to 11.62 % at the end of third quarter of previous fiscal year. The net NPAs eased to 2.14 %, as against 4.09 % in the same period a year ago. Total business of the bank increased by 16.31% year-on-year, wherein gross advances increased by 20.09 % while total deposit grew by 13.61%.

HDFC Life profit up 15% to ₹315 cr

NEW DELHI: HDFC Life on Friday reported a 15% rise in net profit to ₹315 crore for the third quarter ended December. The private sector insurer's profit stood at ₹274 crore in the year-ago period, it said in a regulatory filing. Total income increased to ₹19,693 crore in the latest December quarter from ₹14,222 crore in October-December 2021. Its solvency ratio improved to 209% from 190% as on December 31, 2021. ENS

BoM net profit doubles to ₹775 cr

NEW DELHI: State-owned Bank of Maharashtra (BoM) on Monday reported more than two-fold jump in its profit at ₹775 crore in the quarter ending December 2022 due to increase in net interest income and improved asset quality.
The Pune-headquartered public sector bank, which is eyeing a QIP of ₹500-1,000 crore in the fourth quarter, reported a net profit of ₹325 crore in the year-ago period. ENS

SC decision limited to interim relief, says Google

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

A day after the Supreme Court refused to hear the plea of Google against the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) order, Google said it is reviewing the court decision.

The US tech-giant said the court decision is limited to interim relief and didn't decide the merits of its appeal. "Android has greatly benefited Indian users, developers, and original equipment manufacturer (OEMs) and played a key role in India's digital transformation. We remain committed to our users and partners and will cooperate with the CCI on the way forward, in parallel with our appea" said a Google spokesperson.

The court on Thursday refused to entertain the plea of Google against NCLAT order that refused to give an interim stay on ₹1,337 crore penalty on it. The court has directed NCLAT to decide on the appeal and dispose of it by March 31, 2023. However, the court gave seven days time to Google to deposit 10% of its total penalty.

The bench headed by Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud said since the appeal is pending before NCLAT, it is desisting from expressing any opinion (on the merit of the CCI order).

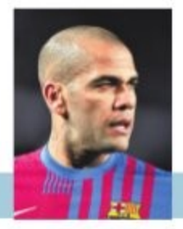
Alves arrested for alleged sexual assault



Brazilian soccer player Dani Alves was arrested Friday after being accused of sexually assaulting a woman in Spain. The alleged act took place on Dec. 31 at a night club in Barcelona, police told The Associated Press. Alves will now go before a judge, who will decide on the charges. Police said they could give no detail on the case.

World body swings into action; question mark on Asian C'ships in Delhi

UWW sends mail to Indian federation, participation in future int'l events depends on outcome of enquiry report

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

AS the stalemate between the protesting wrestlers and the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) refuses to die down, United World Wrestling (UWW), the world governing body of the sport, has taken cognizance of the issue and sought a reply from the national federation. It has also attempted to contact the wrestlers, who are at loggerheads with the WFI accusing its chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh of sexual harassment of the female grapplers.

The ongoing tussle has also put question mark on Indian wrestlers' participation in the upcoming international events and the country's hosting Asian Championships. The world body is expected to take a call in this regard once the issue is resolved and a report of the same is submitted to it.

In a reply to a questionnaire mailed to the UWW enquiring about the ongoing controversy in the country, the world body admitted the allegations levelled against the WFI chief are serious. "UWW has learned with great concern via the media about these serious allegations. We will closely follow the cases and will take any necessary measures that are warranted by the outcome of the investigations," the world body said via an email to this daily.

Adding further, it said, "We have contacted the federation, as well as made efforts to contact athletes directly to better understand the situation." However, the UWW has not clarified whether it managed to speak to the agitating wrestlers. Replying to a specific question on Indian wrestlers' participation in the international tournaments and hosting of the Asian Championships, the UWW said it will be determined based on the outcomes.

As far as the investigations are concerned, it was learnt that the UWW is waiting for a report in this regard from the WFI, which in turn accepted that it has received an email from the world body seeking clarification on the ongoing tussle.

"Yes, we received an email from the UWW. We clarified that the ongoing protest is a conspiracy against the ruling dispensation. We have been given 72 hours by the sports ministry to submit our report. The same report will be mailed to the UWW as well," said a highly-placed WFI source.

It should be noted that the first international assignment for the wrestlers is Ranking Series scheduled in Zagreb, Croatia from February 1 to 5. It will be followed by Dan Kolov Petrov international tournament in Sofia, Bulgaria from March 2 to 5 and Yasar Dogu, Vehbi Emre & Hamit Kaplan tournament in Istanbul, Turkey from March 8 to 12. Interestingly, India is also scheduled to host the continental tournament, Asian Championships, in New Delhi from March 28 to April 2. However, everything — participation of Indian wrestlers and hosting of the Asian Championships — now hangs in a balance.

Ranking event begins today

Meanwhile, the WFI is set to organise the Senior Open National Ranking Tournament in Gonda, Uttar Pradesh from Saturday. The second day of the three-day tournament will also witness the emergency executive committee and emergency general body meeting to discuss the allegations levelled against Singh. "Almost all the participating wrestlers have reached the venue. The tournament will go ahead. The meeting will also be held on Day 2. The president will speak on the accusations against him after the meeting," said the WFI source.

Partial victory but only time will tell

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Lucknow

THE meeting between the sports minister Anurag Thakur and agitating wrestlers continued for almost seven hours. It bore fruits as far as the government is concerned as the wrestlers decided to call off their protest. But how fruitful it turned out for the grapplers could be gauged only after four weeks.

It has been decided that an oversight committee will be formed, which will probe all charges levelled against the Wrestling President of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh and submit a report within the stipulated time period. Given the wrestlers' primary demand, which was removal of Singh and disbanding of the federation and its affiliated state units, it hardly serves their purpose as the sports minister said the WFI chief will only step aside and help with the probe. Interestingly, Singh's tenure gets over next month. "We are calling off the protest as the government has assured us that justice will be done," Bajrang Punia said after the announcement.

Adding further, the Olympic and World Championships medallist said, "A decision has been taken to form a committee to handle day-to-day function and look into our concerns. The sports minister has said that player safety is his prerogative as players have received threats from the federation before. The minister has conveyed his support to us at every step of the way. Our sport has come very far and we didn't want this protest either but things got so out of hand that we had to take a step like this." he added.

IOA appoints committee

The Indian Olympic Association too formed a committee and said a thorough investigation will be carried by the IOA. The protesting wrestlers sent a letter signed by five wrestlers – Tokyo Olympic medallists Ravi Dahiya, Bajrang, Sakshi, Vinesh and Deepak Punia — to IOA chief PT Usha. Among other demands, the wrestlers wanted Singh to be removed and the WFI be disbanded. It also asked "the IOA to immediately appoint a committee to enquire into the complaints of sexual harassment. A new committee should be formed to run the affairs of WFI in consultation with the wrestlers."

The committee comprises athletes' commission chairperson Mary Kom, sportspersons of outstanding merit members Dola Banerjee and Yogeshwar Dutt, joint secretary Alaknanda Ashok and treasurer Sahdev Yadav and two advocates. The emergency meeting was attended by the executive council members.

The curious decline of PC conversion

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Bhubaneswar

EVEN as the future of penalty corners continues to be debated in the corridors of the International Hockey Federation (FIH), there has been an undeniable shift in the art itself. Till recently, the main protagonists were considered to be the drag-flickers, ones standing on the top of the 'D', clutching their sticks as if it was a toothpick. They had a swagger, their bulging biceps adding to the theatre of the setting. Because the penalty corner has traditionally resulted in lop-sided contests between the drag-flicker and the moving four-person wall protecting the goal (apart from the goalkeeper), they invariably finished tournaments as the leading goal-scorers.

That, though, has been slightly changing. Even if the best flickers keep sounding the board on a periodical basis, the contest is now more even. The ongoing World Cup in Rourkela-Bhubaneswar has been witness to it. Out of the 195 penalty corners that have been won by teams till Thursday night, only 32 have been credited as goals from penalty corners (do bear in mind that several of these 32 were rebound efforts so direct goals from shot corners is fewer). In other words, at this World Cup, the conversion rate is roughly 16.5 %. Historically, that figure is around one in three. It's down even from the last World Cup where the conversion rate stood at 22.4 % (57 out of 244).

While the working theory was that some of it was perhaps linked to the usage of water — FIH have done away with the practice of watering the turf at half-time in a bid to make the sport more sustainable — coaches at the World Cup have discarded that. They have instead focused on analytics and better defending. Paul Revington, England coach, said: "I just think it's a matter of teams evolving with the game and realising if they don't pay more attention to the runners, linemen and everything, you just end up with Sohail Abbas and Taeke Taekema (two of the best exponents of the art in the last three decades or so) situations where they end up ripping balls... it's still happening but we got to do the homework."

Some of that homework refers to the importance of the first rusher, the defender who hares towards the drag-flick taker as soon as the injector pushes the ball towards one of the two batteries. With elite sport all about finding that extra 1 % in search of perfection, there is now a method in the madness behind the selection of the first rusher. They not only have to be fast and fit but also very durable and be up for a fight. From an Indian perspective, Manpreet Singh and Amit Rohidas are the primary first rushers.

India's analytical coach, Gregg Clark, one of whose jobs is to study penalty corners and try to deduce weaknesses and strengths, if any, before relying the same to chief coach Graham Reid and the players, namechecked Wegnez and Manpreet. "Really think the defences are getting better," he said. "If you look at our game against England, Manpreet was incredible with his rushing when he was on the pitch. Wegnez also randown a whole bunch against Korea. First rushers have gotten better and I think teams are really analysing it and maybe protective equipment is getting a bit better."

IN all of the three post-match press conferences, Graham Reid has spoken about the team's chance creation. Hence, it's not a surprise to note that they are second only behind Netherlands in terms of circle entries (76). However, that hasn't necessarily translated to goals. One reason for that is their below-par shots on goals-to-goals scored conversion rate. It currently stands at 16 % (6 out of 37). The Australian spoke about this factor after watching his team create and squander multiple chances against Wales.

The players crowded the striking semi-circle so they didn't have the room to get their shots away properly. "I don't know to be honest. There can always be a couple of reasons," the Australian said. Tonight (Thursday), we got into each other's way. Against a very defensive team, you bring a defender with you, so we ended up with too many in the circle. It's very hard to explain," said Reid

This could be worrying, especially for the next game against New Zealand on Sunday. The Black Sticks set-up defensively as they will allow India all the time on the ball but will defend the striking circle. In consequence, there could be a scenario where a similar situation presents itself. "That is (the game against New Zealand) going to be tough. We have played them here in the Pro League. Our first game against them was tough, (but) the second was a bit easier. They will come out like (how) Wales did today — energized." he added.

India might have a lot in the tank, but to progress beyond the quarterfinals, their strikers and midfielders will have to finish the chances.

CAN HOSTS SEAL SERIES?

With the second ODI against New Zealand set to happen in Raipur on Saturday, a look at key talking points...

CHANCE FOR SKY TO STEAL SHOW
Suryakumar Yadav had the perfect opportunity to stamp his authority in the first game, but fell to a soft dismissal. However, he would be itching to get back on the field and make a mark in this series for Shreyas Iyer is likely to slot right back in when he comes back from injury.

LIVE ON STAR SPORTS NETWORK 1:30 PM

BLACKCAPS TOP-ORDER
While Michael Bracewell saved face for New Zealand in Hyderabad, they would want their top three to go out and score big. Finn Allen got a start, but could not capitalise and could be the key in setting the tone for the tourists on Saturday before Devon Conway and Henry Nicholls take charge.

FOCUS ON WASHINGTON
Against a line-up that has four southpaws, Washington Sundar had a day to forget in the first ODI. In what is likely to be another high-scoring encounter in Raipur, the off-spinner would want to comeback stronger and make an impact with the ball.

Father & coach behind Amanjot's rise to top

GOMESH S @Chennai

IN the hours leading up to the T20I match between India and South Africa at East London late on Thursday night, not many expected Amanjot Kaur to make her debut. Not even her father Bhupinder Singh or coach Nagesh Gupta. But there was one person who was confidently looking forward to seeing her on television.

In her home at Phase V, Mohali, Smt Bhagwanti, Amanjot's Dadi ji (paternal grandmother), promptly asked to switch on the TV around 9 PM, asking, 'Arey, where is Aman?'. "I was afraid that she might not get a game and it was late at night. So, I told her that the match would come on TV tomorrow and asked her to sleep. But around 11, she saw that the lights were on and asked us what was going on as we were watching the match. Aman was playing as well, so she sat down and enjoyed the entire match with us," a delighted Bhupinder told this daily.

Call it destiny or a Dadi's goodwill, the Punjab all-rounder got her India cap on Thursday — with several players in the Indian camp falling sick due to allergies — and immediately made an impression. Coming in at 69/5, Amanjot smashed an unbeaten 30-ball 41, putting up a 76-run stand for the sixth wicket alongside Deepti Sharma. Thanks to her innings, India finished with 147/6 and registered a 27-run win in the first match of the tri-series.

While everyone watching the match were blown away by her innings, Bhupinder and Nagesh aren't surprised one bit. The chance to play might have come with some luck, but they both have been with her in every step of the way till she reached the top. All Bhupinder, who runs his own business as a carpenter, has ever told Amanjot since the day she fell in love with sport, playing gully cricket with the boys in their neighbourhood, is to play the sport and do it well. And he has done everything in his power to make sure she was able to do that. It comes as no surprise that Amanjot credits her success to her father. "My dad played a big role in my career. His struggle is much bigger than mine, he left half of his work for me so that I don't miss out on my academy. If he didn't do that, I would not have been here today," she said after the match on Thursday.

Medvedev out of Oz Open

AGENCIES @ Melbourne

SEBASTIAN Korda beat two-time runner-up Daniil Medvedev 7-6 (7), 6-3, 7-6 (4) in the Australian Open's third round Friday night at Melbourne Park. Korda is a 22-year-old from Florida who is seeded 29th, is the son of 1998 Australian Open champion Petr and counts eight-time major champ Andre Agassi as a mentor. Korda equaled his best showing at any Grand Slam tournament by reaching the round of 16.

The No. 7-seeded Medvedev won the U.S. Open two years ago and made it to the final in Australia in 2021, when he lost to Novak Djokovic, and 2022, when he lost to Rafael Nadal after holding a two-set lead. The Russian also was briefly ranked No. 1 last season.

Select Results: (ALL RD 3): Men's Singles: Felix bt Cerundolo 6-1, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4; Korda bt Medvedev 7-6 (9/7), 6-3, 7-6 (7/4); Lehecka bt Norrie 6-7 (8/10), 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4; Hurkacz bt Shapovalov 7-6 (7/3), 6-4, 1-6, 4-6, 6-3; Women's Singles: I Swiatek bt C Bucsa 6-0, 6-1; J Pegula bt M Kostyuk 6-0, 6-2; C Gauff bt B Pera 6-3, 6-2; V Azarenka bt M Keys 1-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Yamaguchi, woman of hour

ANMOL GURUNG @ New Delhi

AKANE Yamaguchi is the gold standard of badminton today. Known for her nimbleness, speed and patient approach, the shuttler from Japan seems to be operating with a different level of energy in recent times. The diminutive shuttler just seems to have found a different gear. Just last week, she beat her closest rivals, Tai Tzu-ying and An Se-young (in terms of world rankings) en route to open the season with a title in Malaysia. And she's carrying on that momentum into the India Open Super 750.

Facing another close challenger in Carolina Marin on Friday, Yamaguchi asserted her style to overcome the Rio Olympic champion and book a spot in the semis of the $850,000 event. Granted that Marin is still in recovery mode after her serious injury, but Yamaguchi did what was necessary and has given a clear message that she is not ready to relinquish her World No 1 status any time soon.

Akane Yamaguchi | PARVEEN NEGI

Marin, who knows a thing or two about dominance, acknowledged Yamaguchi's superiority in play at the moment.

"I wanted to show a bit more. She (Yamaguchi) is playing really well, she's controlling the shuttle very well," she said.

Given that the Olympic qualification phase is around the corner, Yamaguchi will be intent on keeping up the good work, especially after her heartbreak in the 2020 Olympics at home, where she was knocked out in the quarterfinals by India's PV Sindhu.

Incidentally, she will meet Thailand's Supanida Katethong, the woman who beat Sindhu, next. An Se-yong and China's He Bingjiao also advanced and will meet each other in the semifinals. Viktor Axelsen (Denmark) also entered the semifinals after his countrymate, Rasmus Gemke, was forced to quit in the opening game.

Ajith guides TN to innings victory

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

LEFT-ARM spinner S Ajith Ram's maiden five wicket haul (5-70) and match figures of 9 for 138 came in handy for Tamil Nadu to thrash Assam by innings and 70 runs on the final day Ranji trophy Elite Group B match played at the MA Chidambaram stadium here on Friday. Ajith was adjudged as the player of the match for his splendid show. National selector S Sharath, who watched the match, patted Ajith Ram for his good show and encouraged the youngster after the match was over just before tea. For Assam, it was a disappointing finish as they were outplayed by Tamil Nadu in all departments.

Rishav Das 58 (121b, 5x4, 2x6) was the only Assam batter to show some resistance and delay the inevitable. He was finally removed by Sandeep Warrier with Sai Sudarshan taking a regulation catch in the slips. "Definitely, it's a great feeling to get the player of the match at my home ground. I'm proud of myself for being selected for Tamil Nadu and performing well at home gives me good confidence," said Ajith after the match.

HUMAN ROLE IN GUNSHOT DETECTION TECHNOLOGY

Employees have broad discretion to determine origin of the sound

TECH

CHICAGO: In more than 140 cities across the United States, ShotSpotter's artificial intelligence algorithm and intricate network of microphones evaluate hundreds of thousands of sounds a year to determine if they are gunfire, generating data now being used in criminal cases nationwide.

But a confidential ShotSpotter document obtained by The Associated Press outlines something the company doesn't always tout about its "precision policing system"—that human employees can quickly overrule and reverse the algorithm's determinations, and are given broad discretion to decide if a sound is a gunshot, fireworks, thunder or something else.

Such reversals happened 10% of the time by a 2021 company account, which experts say could bring subjectivity into increasingly consequential decisions and conflict with one of the reasons AI is used in law-enforcement tools in the first place—to lessen the role of all-too-fallible humans. "I've listened to a lot of gunshot recordings — and it is not easy to do," said Robert Maher, a leading national authority on gunshot detection at Montana State University who reviewed the ShotSpotter document. "Sometimes it is obviously a gunshot. Sometimes it is just a ping, ping, ping. ... and you can convince yourself it is a gunshot."

Marked "WARNING: CONFIDENTIAL," the 19-page operations document spells out how employees in ShotSpotter's review centres should listen to recordings and assess the algorithm's finding of likely gunfire based upon a series of factors that may require judgment calls, including whether the sound has the cadence of gunfire, whether the audio pattern looks like "a sideways Christmas tree" and if there is "100% certainty of gunfire in reviewer's mind."

ShotSpotter said that the human role is a positive check on the algorithm and the "plain-language" document reflects the high standards of accuracy its reviewers must meet. "Our data, based on the review of millions of incidents, proves that human review adds value, accuracy and consistency to a review process that our customers—and many gunshot victims—depend on," said Tom Chittum, the company's vice president of analytics and forensic services. Another part of the document underscores ShotSpotter's longstanding emphasis on speed and decisiveness, and its commitment to classify sounds in less than a minute and alert local police and 911 dispatchers so they can send officers to the scene.

Titled "Adopting a New York State of Mind," it refers to New York Police Department's request of ShotSpotter to avoid posting alerts of sounds as "probable gunfire"—only definitive classifications as gunfire or non-gunfire.

"End result: It trains the reviewer to be decisive and accurate in their classification and attempts to remove a doubtful publication," the document reads.

Law enforcement personnel uses an interactive electronic map | AP

False positives

Experts say such guidance under tight time pressure could encourage ShotSpotter reviewers to err in favour of categorizing a sound as a gunshot, even if some evidence for it falls short, potentially boosting the numbers of false positives

NASA, Boeing to build sustainable jet

ENVIRONMENT

WASHINGTON: The US space agency NASA is teaming up with aviation giant Boeing to develop a next-generation commercial aircraft that emits less carbon. NASA, whose purview also includes aeronautical research, will invest $425 million over seven years in the "Sustainable Flight Demonstrator" (SFD) project while Boeing and its partners will spend an estimated $725 million. The goal is to produce future commercial airliners that are "more fuel efficient, with benefits to the environment, the commercial aviation industry, and to passengers worldwide," NASA chief Bill Nelson said. "

If we are successful, we may see these technologies in planes that the public takes to the skies in the 2030s," Nelson said in a statement on Wednesday.

The agreement calls for NASA and Boeing to build, test, and fly a full-scale single-aisle demonstrator aircraft.

"The technologies demonstrated and tested as part of the SFD programme will inform future designs and could lead to breakthrough aerodynamics and fuel efficiency gains," Boeing said. Boeing chief engineer Greg Hyslop said it "has the potential to make a major contribution toward a sustainable future." Engineers will beseeking to design an aircraft with fuel consumption and emissions reductions of up to 30% relative to today's most efficient single-aisle aircraft, NASA said. The agency plans to complete SFD testing by the late 2020s so the technologies and design can be applied to the next generation of single-aisle aircraft.

Single-aisle aircraft are the most common in airline fleets and account for nearly half of worldwide aviation emissions, NASA said. Boeing and NASA plan to flight-test an innovative wing known as the transonic truss-braced wing that creates less drag and results in the burning of less fuel. The extra-long, thin wings are mounted on top of the fuselage and stabilised by diagonal struts.

NASA and Boeing said development of the next-generation plane could help meet the White House and industry's objective of net-zero carbon emissions from aviation by 2050.

Satellite mapping finds penguins

Satellite mapping technology has discovered another new colony of the highly threatened Emperor penguins in Antarctica, researchers revealed on Friday. The find, announced by the British Antarctic Survey (BAS) to mark Penguin Awareness Day, brings the total number of known emperor penguin breeding sites around Antarctica's coastline to 66. It is the latest in a series of Emperor penguin breeding sites detected using the satellite technology. The birds, which are endemic to Antarctica and the biggest of the 18 penguin species at around 1.2 metres tall, face almost complete annihilation due to climate change and loss of sea ice.

DAY'S DIARY

Fashion Icon

Born on Jan 21, 1905, in France, Christian Dior's creations were wildly popular. He is best known for his eponymous fashion house.

THE BRAND

The brand started in Paris. In 1947, Dior introduced the revolutionary New Look, spurring controversy over its radically lowered hemline.

CRITICISM

Feminists argued the New Look was oppressive, requiring restrictive garments such as the corset, crinoline, and padding to create the proper silhouette.

THE PASSING

In 1957, after appearing on the cover of Time magazine, Dior travelled to Italy. On Oct 23, 1957, he suffered a heart attack and died at the age of 52.

ARTICULATING A VISION

Industrialist, philanthropist and founder of the Museum Of Art And Photography (MAP) Abhishek Poddar walks CE through the private museum, ahead of its long-awaited launch, now scheduled for mid-Feb

DESE GOWDA

NEW construction projects have become an everyday affair in Bengaluru, most often at the cost of the city's lush green cover. Yet a particular project that has been taking shape on Kasturba Road over the last few years is working at making the city a premiere hub for art and culture in the country. After much delay, the Museum Of Art And Photography (MAP) is opening its doors to the public in mid-February.

The brainchild of industrialist-philanthropist Abhishek Poddar, MAP is taking physical form more than two years after it was originally launched as a digital museum, and is attempting to democratise art and change the way the public perceive the museum-going experience. "India has many museums, but museum-hopping has not been part of our culture. They have just become relics of the British Raj. The whole point is for MAP to play a significant part in changing that mindset," Poddar says, adding, "Art is not only for artists, curators or art writers. In India, there's art in every nook and cranny. Yet our connection with it has somehow snapped. We hope to reconnect people with art, history and culture."

Being the country's newest private art museum, MAP will feature over 60,000 artworks – paintings, sculptures, textiles, photographs – predominantly from the Indian subcontinent, dating all the way back to the 10th century. A significant portion of MAP's collection was donated by the Poddar family from their private collection, but it also features artworks sourced from other artists, institutions and donors. "My family has gifted a large part of our collection, but we've been fortunate to get many gifts of art from other collectors and donors. It dwarfs the collection that my family has given," says Poddar, adding that MAP plans to collaborate with museums around the world and borrow exhibits as and when required.

As an old Bengalurean who has seen the city evolve, Poddar (54) believes that the city represents the future of India.

"MAP is not just about the past, but also about the future," he says. On a lighter note, he adds, "This is my hometown and I wanted to build the museum here because this is where I can enjoy it myself rather than having to travel each time I want to see it."

A self-professed acquisition junkie, Poddar grew up surrounded by hand-picked art collected by his parents. "What had a bigger impact was all the encounters I had with various artists, teachers, historians, scholars, who opened my eyes to different genres of art and took me on a journey of discovery," he shares. "During my teen years, I had some incredible experiences with these stalwarts who shaped my vision and passion." Yet, the prolific art collector says he had little say in MAP's curatorial direction. "My curators don't listen to me," he quips.

Art exhibits at MAP on Kasturba Road.

In India, there's art in every nook and cranny. Yet our connection with it has somehow snapped. We hope to reconnect people with art, history and culture — Abhishek Poddar, founder, MAP

RUBINATIONS
Rubi Chakravarti
Writer, actor and funny girl

EVERY day when I read the news bulletin or hear the anchors on various news channels reporting the news, I wonder... Are we losing a little of our soul slowly but surely and turning into living and breathing soulless creatures? I know that we are turning less empathetic and all the phrases that the Gen Z uses – not a big 'stan' of butting in, or they feel 'pressed' or 'dragged' into situations they don't want to 'vibe' with – echoes with us too. Are we, the 'baby-boomers' responsible for this total non-involved vibe? I don't think so because 'soullessness' seems to transcend all age groups. Take a repeat of the 'Delhi-belly' episode in namma-ooru. A senior citizen was dragged for nearly a kilometre by a punk on a scooter who had no qualms about skinning another human being. But, I am amazed at the senior-citizen who held onto the scooter, and was dragged by the cretin (who often zig-zagged to shake him off) only to extract an apology from him for abusing and kicking him! He put his own life in peril to teach a punk with no morals or empathy, a lesson!

Our parents brought us up with a clear understanding that when needed, we will provide financial and emotional succour to them. However fortunate one was, we grew up in an austere environment where wastefulness was frowned upon. No extravagant birthday parties with obnoxiously priced 'return gifts' or a surfeit of clothes, shoes, phones and the like was offered. Our aim was not to make our less fortunate friends feel left-out. Empathy was the key emotion. We, on the other hand, gave our kids everything...they have no idea how to reciprocate. A simple world has simple answers. The more 'rad' we become, the more we complicate our lives.

A close friend was speaking about the benefits of meditation. I am too distracted to be a 'meditator'. But of late I use the power of introspection. It's a beautiful way to be engaged with our mind, and find empowering answers that eventually help you to deal with your thoughts and actions on a bigger plane. As my friends joke, I think I do have the makings of a self-styled guru!

Shantla Jain and Shubham Shinh

This week was purposely mellow, as I refused a slew of invitations to go out. But I was happy to accept an invitation to dine alone with my other half, at Tiamo at the Conrad, who were celebrating their 5th anniversary. The night was chilly with heaters for people like Imi who becomes a shivering mess at the mention of the word 'cold'. As a pucca- Bangalorean, I revelled in the nippy air, enjoyed the superlative fare curated by chef Shubham and was delighted to meet my favourite family of captain Praveen and Sarayu Chandra and their son and father who had also stopped by for dinner. A socially-conscious conclave was put together by the talented duo of Deepa Reddy and Sarayu weaving together food, fashion and art. It was a beautiful evening spent with beautiful people, amongst beautiful things topped with beautiful food.

This week was spent with friends celebrating special occasions with their 'woke' children not wanting to publicise it. I understand...it's time to detach.

Detachment is not that you should own nothing, but that nothing should own you.

Avin Thaliath (@chef_avin), pastry chef and the director of Lavonne Academy of Baking Science And Pastry Arts, dishes out a food-related quiz in this weekly series. Be a real 'whisk' taker and let us know if you have what it bakes. Who knows, your dreams may crumb true.

'I HAVE LEARNT A LOT FROM THE INDUSTRY'

...says Rachita Ram, who talks about Kranti, which stars Darshan as the male lead

A SHARADHAA

RACHITA made her transition from TV to silverscreen with the film Bulbul (2013). And the then-newbie got to work with a star like Darshan, right in her first film. The family drama became a hit at the box office, and since then there was looking back for Rachita Ram, who popularly came to be known as Dimple Queen, or Bulbul. She recalls her journey and says it was a challenging one. "I got to see success and failures. There were films where I got a bit monotonous, but they were few good characters, which were performance-oriented, and did elevate my career. The industry overall has taught me a few good lessons, says Rachita.

The actor is looking forward to the release of Kranti, and she quips that the film is very special to her in many good ways. "I am getting to work with the actor, who gave me the launchpad onto the silver screen, and this will be my fourth collaboration with Darshan after Bulbul, Ambareesha, and a guest appearance in Jaggu Dada. However, every time, I get to face the arc light along with Darshan I feel it is for the first time. The feeling that I had in Bulbul was there on the day, I began shooting for Kranti. Having said that, I am getting to team up with the Challenging star after 7 years. Along with the excitement, and enthusiasm, this time I was confident to deliver the dialogue in front of him. I even expressed it to him, and said, "I can face you now'," she laughed.

Rachita for the first time plays the role of a school teacher, and she tells us what attracted her towards the project. "One, working with Darshan again, and an opportunity to work with V Harikrishna for the first time. Moreover, I liked the way the director's approach with a commercial script. He not only narrated my character, but told me the entire story, and about each actor's role, which in a way helped to understand the content better. The film, which is themed about Akshara Kranti, the film imparts a message to the society as well as government. A commercial entertainer with content is rare in these times, and I will be glad if this film creates an impact and bring a change in various government schools," she says.

A still from the film

Rachita Ram understands the responsibility of a teacher better as her mother runs a school, and her father is a Bhrathaytam teacher. "Though I have not been directly involved with my mother, I understand the role and responsibilities involved in this profession," says Rachita, who plays the role of Usha, a science teacher in the film.

"With Darshan playing the titular role Kranti, Harikrishna has given importance to every actor in the film," she adds. Rachita finds it hard to choose between the composer Harikrishna and the director Harikrishna. "He is a lot more prepared when he gets behind the camera for direction. There was a lot of homework from his end, and we got to do a spot improvisation with scenes, costumes, and dialogues," says Rachita, adding, "I have two songs, which is more an invitation to the audience. But I always enjoy when it comes working on talkie portions. It keeps me focused. Overall, I'm happy to have travelled with the team Kranti and collaborated with producer Shylaja Nag and B Suresha. I feel that I was destined to be part of the film, and glad the project came to me, right at a time."

2023 seems to be only getting bigger and better for Rachita. The actor has a good line up of films after Kranti like Veeram, Bad Manners, Matinee, Shabari, and Love Me or Hate Me, and at different stages of production. "I have another project in Telugu, which will begin soon. I can share more details after the launch. I will be making my debut in Tamil too this year," she signs off.

Shanvi Srivastava

Shanvi Srivastava on board Nagathihalli Chandrashekar's next

CE FEATURES

THE silver jubilee anniversary of Nagathihalli Chandrashekar's America America (1997), starring Ramesh Aravind, Hema Panchamukhi, and Akshay Anand, was celebrated last year.

We had earlier reported that the filmmaker wants to bring back the nostalgia and the essence of the popular family drama with a film, which will be like a tribute to the modern-day classic.

Now, the director is gearing up to kickstart this project, which will go on floors in February, and the team is expected to head to the USA in April.

According to our sources, Chandrashekar has penned a story that will feature a strong woman character at the centre of things. We have learned that the first actor to come onboard this project is the Avane Srimannarayana actor Shanvi Srivastava. The makers are in the process of finalising the rest of the cast of this project.

With over sixty per cent of the shooting planned in the USA, the makers have zeroed in on locations in Seattle for the project. This yet-to-be-titled film will see Chandrashekar reunite with his America America composer Mano Murthy. The other technician to come onboard the project is cinematographer SK Rao, who recently won a lot of praise for his work in Monsoon Raaga.

Meanwhile, Shanvi, who was last seen in Dinesh Baboo's Kasturi Mahal, is awaiting the release of Bang, and Thrishulam. She is also part of the Marathi remake of Prashanth Neel's blockbuster debut, Ugramm.

Prem, Tabla Nani to team up for Atharv Arya's family drama

The muhurath of the film is to be held on January 23, and the director will kickstart shooting the project on Feb 1

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Atharv Arya, gearing up to begin shooting for his next after Jootata, which is ready for release, and Gubbachi, which is half complete and stars newcomers. Billed to be a family drama, the film will feature Prem of Nenapirali fame and Tabla Nani in the lead. Tentatively titled Production 1, the film will be officially launched on January 23. Bankrolled by KRS Production, the film is set to start shooting on February 1. With director Atharv penning the story and its screenplay, the film revolves around the father's importance in the family. The film has Prem portraying the role of a businessman running a software company.

Nagaraj DR, Akash Parva, and Vedic Veera have been finalised as the film's cinematographer, music director, and editor respectively. The film's shooting will take place entirely in Bengaluru, and the makers, are in the process of bringing on board, the female lead. The supporting cast includes names like Bala Rajawadi, Girish Jatti, and Mitra.

Jadeshaa K Hampi to direct Vijay Kumar's next

CE FEATURES

WE had earlier reported about Guru Sishyaru director Jadeshaa K Hampi collaborating with Salaga hero Vijay Kumar for his next. Now, an official announcement about the project was made on the occasion of the actor's birthday on Thursday and the makers released a concept-based poster.

In the fiery poster, which is captained 'you chain the lion, but not its roar,' we see an image of a symbol of hands chained, and the back profile of a woman standing in the center with a huge crowd in the background. "Tentatively titled VK 29, this will be a period action drama made on a big canvas, based on a true incident," says the filmmaker.

Set in the 70s, the film will be backed by producers Krishna Sarthak and Jagadeesh Gowda (of Krishna Creations and Jagadeesh Films), who are currently collaborating with Vijay Kumar for Bheema. "The project will go on floors once Vijay is done with his current commitment to Bheema," signs off the filmmaker.

With fifty per cent shooting of Bheema completed, Vijay is set to begin filming his portions. "Salaga established me as a director, and I'm currently enjoying the process of directing Bheema, which will only be bigger and better in its making," says Vijay . The project is set stars a lot of newcomers. Social media sensations Ash Melo Skyler, Black Dragon Manju, and Gili Gili Chandru are playing prominent roles while music and cinematography is done by Charan Raj and Shiva Sena, respectively.

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR PC Shekar, who previously revealed the character look of Krishna and Milana Nagaraj in Love Birds has unveiled one more character look from the film. This time he has shared the poster of Samyukta Hornad, who will be playing Lawyer Maya in the romantic drama.

"She is a daring girl and a successful lawyer, and she is the friend of both Deepak, and Pooja, the characters played by Krishna and Milana," says the director, sharing the first look of Samyukta with CE. The film is about a couple leading a successful life post-marriage, Love Birds is bankrolled by Kaddipudi Chandru under the Sribanashankari Chitralaya banner. The film's music is composed by Arjun Janya, and the first song will be unveiled on January 22. Shakti Shekar has handled the cinematography of the film.
